BRITAIN'S REPLY TO HITLER EXPECTED IN ADDRESS BY HALIFAX

Armored Car Present For Mussolini From Fuehrer and Goering

Rome, July 22.—(P)—Premier Mussolini received an armored car from Adolf Hitler today, intended to protect him during his travels.

The train, consisting of two cars with German crews, was presented by Gen. Ritter Von Pohl in a formal ceremony during which Hitler watched its guns shot at air targets.

General Von Pohl told Mussolini that Hitler wished for it to protect "your life which is precious not only to the Italian people, but also to the German nation."

Mussolini thanked him "for this gift, which is another sign of the unbreakable brotherhood of arms which unites great Germany and Italy in peace and war."

Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering joined the fuhrer in making the gift.

The train's 16 anti-aircraft guns—arranged in four batteries, two on each car—smashed a dummy airplane floating a few yards above the sea coast, then shot shrapnel into the sky while Mussolini watched from a special stand.

Meantime the Italian High Command claimed to have "positive information" that three British warships, in addition to the 42,100-ton battle cruiser Hood and the aircraft carrier Ark Royal, were "damaged severely" and suffered "heavy losses" to their crews during the Italian-British Mediterranean naval battles from July 8-13.

MINE INVESTIGATION RECESSED BY DEATH

Portage, July 22.—(P)—The death of State Secretary of Mines John Ira Thomas caused a recess until Wednesday of the inquiry into cause of the explosion that killed 63 men in the Koppers Company's nearby Sonman mine.

James Hess, president of the Jamestown local of the CIO United Mine Workers, protested against the closed hearing of the six-man board conducting the investigation and was granted permission to be present only when members of the union testify.

ITALIAN RESTAURANT AT FAIR IS CLOSED

New York, July 22.—(P)—The restaurant in the Italian pavilion at the New York World's Fair closed last night on orders from the Italian Line, its sponsor. Manager Armando Tosi attributed the closing to a decline in business.

Fixtures valued at $340,000 will be shipped back to Italy, Tosi said, as well as a copper dance floor which presumably will go into armaments.

Republicans to Start Cleaning Up What Is Left of State Patronage, Torrance Declares

BY PAUL L. MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer
Harrisburg, July 22.—(P)—A fresh flow of jobs on Capitol hill is imminent, Republican State Chairman James F. Torrance declared today.

Returning to the capital after a brief rest at his Westmoreland county home, Torrance said he would take up immediately the task of "cleaning up what is left of the state patronage."

He predicted a number of appointments would be made before the fall campaign, but added: "I wouldn't know where there would be more than 500 jobs left now."

Two well-paid executive positions now vacant are a $10,000 membership on the Liquor Control Board, and a $6,000 membership

Under Flail of New German Bombing Attacks, Nation Anticipates Foreign Secretary to Return Blunt "No Compromise" Answer to Fuehrer's Last-Chance Ultimatum—Thereby Touching Off Threatened Nazi Invasion of England

TALK BY CHURCHILL SCHEDULED TUESDAY

By the Associated Press
Under the flail of new German bombing attacks, Britain's expected Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax is to return a blunt "no compromise" reply today to Adolf Hitler's last-chance ultimatum—thereby possibly touching off the threatened Nazi invasion of England.

Authorized Nazis in Berlin said Britain's "zero hour" would follow quickly after Lord Halifax and Prime Minister Churchill have answered Hitler's "final appeal to reason."

Hitler himself has said that if the British reject a Nazi-prescribed peace, "my answer will be terrible for millions."

The German High Command reported that waves of Nazi bombers set big fires at airbases, ports, factories and oil tanks in the island kingdom.

Dive-bombing planes assaulted a convoy in the English channel, the High Command said, and sank a tanker and four merchant ships totalling 40,000 tons.

The High Command acknowledged that British Royal Air Force planes raiding in the darkness over northern and western Germany, caused "some damage."

Lord Halifax will speak at 3:15 p. m. E. S. T. in a broadcast scheduled before Hitler's Reichstag address last Friday but Britons nevertheless expected him to reply to the fuhrer.

As the Nazis kept up the air war, Britain reported at least two and possibly three big German bombers were shot down by anti-aircraft in pre-dawn battles today and 24 German planes were downed Saturday and Sunday.

Proudest British announcement dealt with the asserted rout of 80 German planes—40 bombers and 40 fighters—by six British Hurricane planes in an hour-and-15-minute battle over the English channel Sunday afternoon. The British said one German plane was shot down and the others raced for home, their attack on a merchant shipping convoy thwarted.

German bombers killed at least 15 persons in widely scattered districts of Britain Sunday, however, the British acknowledged loss of 11 planes in raids Saturday night on the German naval base at Wilhelmshaven and other objectives.

The Germans admitted loss of five planes Saturday but said the British lost 22.

Also on the debit side, Britain reported the submarine Salmon was long overdue and given up for lost and that the minesweeper trawler Crestflower was sunk by enemy aircraft.

The Salmon last Dec. 12 reported destruction of a German submarine, damaging of the German cruiser, (Turn to Page Nine)

American Republics Look to United States to Point Way for Measures To Bolster Economy and Defense

BY EDWARD STUNTZ

Havana, July 22.—(P)—An emergency meeting of the representatives of the 21 American Republics looked today to the United States to point the way for concrete measures to bolster western hemisphere economy and defense against any totalitarian thrusts.

As the business of formally organizing the conference began, delegates of the Latin American countries, whose economies already have been disturbed by the loss of European markets, anxiously waited for Secretary of State Cordell Hull to indicate how far the United States is ready to go in helping to solve their problems.

Hull planned to address the conference at 4 p. m. (E. S. T.) after the first private plenary session devoted to designation of committees.

The stage for his address was set yesterday by President Federico Laredo Bru of Cuba who, in a speech of welcome, called upon the American nations to take concrete measures to defend their "common rights" against dangers which "increase day by day."

Hyde Park, N. Y., July 22.—(P)—Ambassador William C. Bullitt, who is giving President Roosevelt a report on what has happened to France, said today that the relationship of the American government to the new Petain government was "exactly the same" as to the former French regime.

He said no question of American recognition of the government established by Marshal Henri Petain had arisen because "we never had broken off relations."

The diplomat, a guest at the president's home here, returned from Europe Saturday and began his report to the chief executive in Washington last night.

JUMPS IN FRONT OF MACHINE

Louis Stock, 18 Years Old, Victim of Accident on Route 27 Near His Home Shortly Before Noon Today When He Dismounts From Tractor Directly in Path of Automobile Driven by Forrest Rapp, Of Youngsville

OFFICIAL INQUIRY EXONERATES DRIVER

Jumping from the rear of a moving tractor directly into the path of a passing automobile, Louis Stock, 18-year-old Pittsfield township youth, was instantly killed about 11:30 this morning on Route 27, a half mile west of Pittsfield.

Stock had been riding on the rear bar of the tractor, operated by Homer Wolfe, 24, of Pittsfield township, who was hauling a log from Pittsfield to the residence of his father, George Wolfe, in front of whose home the accident occurred.

The tractor was being driven west along the right-hand berm, preparatory to turning into the Wolfe driveway, when Stock, who lived a quarter of a mile beyond the Wolfe home, stepped off the bar into the middle of the road and in the path of a car operated by Forrest Rapp, 29, of Youngsville, going in the same direction.

The victim was struck by the right front fender of the car and thrown about 45 feet, striking his head on the berm. A youngsville physician was called and found death had been instantaneous, caused directly by a crushed skull.

The accident is being investigated by Coroner Ed C. Lowrey and Privates J. R. Thompson and N. B. Johns, of the state motor police.

Homer Wolfe, the driver of the tractor, told the officials that he, accompanied by Stephen Swinkel, a neighbor, had been hailed by Stock at the bridge west of Pittsfield and that the victim had been riding on the left side of the bar.

It is believed that Stock's attention was on avoiding being struck by the log when he leaped from the tractor.

ANNENBERG TO START SERVING PRISON TERM

Chicago, July 22.—(P)—M. L. Annenberg surrendered today to the United States marshal today to begin a trip to the U. S. penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa., where he must serve a three-year term for evasion of income taxes.

Chief Deputy Marshal Joseph Tobin said Annenberg appeared at the Loop office of his chief counsel, Weymouth Kirkland, and that the marshal's office was advised by telephone.

Marshall William H. McDonnell went to the lawyer's office, prepared to start immediately by automobile for Lewisburg with his 62-year-old prisoner who once ruled the turf news field as one of the nation's wealthiest men.

The marshal said he and Deputy Joseph Thinnies would drive the 720 miles to Lewisburg in McDonnell's own coupe. The commitment papers had been prepared and waiting.

Annenberg, a Philadelphia publisher, this began paying in time his debt to Uncle Sam for criminal violation of the income tax laws. He has also paid $800,000 as first installment on an $8,000,000 settlement he agreed to make to settle civil income tax claims.

Annenberg spent the weekend with his family in Philadelphia, then surrendered on the day his slay of execution expired. He was sentenced July 1 by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson and later denied his probation.

Uncle Sam already has the first installment of $800,000 on an $8,000,000 settlement. The Philadelphia publisher and former turf news magnate agreed to pay as his civil income tax debt.

But Annenberg also has to pay three years in time, the penitentiary term imposed for criminal violation of the income tax laws.

A slay of execution which Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson granted July 1 when he sentenced Annenberg expired today and U. S. Marshal William H. McDonnell awaited the publisher's surrender.

Unless there are last minute changes in the arrangement, deputy marshals will escort the fire-year-old prisoner to the federal institution at Lewisburg, Pa. Annenberg spent the weekend with his family in Philadelphia. Meantime United States Attorney (Turn to Page Nine)

SCORES ARE DROWNED IN EFFORT TO ESCAPE RECORD TORRID WAVE

Rough Draft of An Excess Profits Tax Bill Being Prepared

Washington, July 22.—(P)—Administration tax experts brought out today the first rough draft of a bill to "prevent war millionaires."

It was an "excess profits" tax, to be levied on surplus revenue. Treasury and congressional workers indicated the measure of "surplus" would be either "normal earnings" or "reasonable return on capital investment," depending on the individual case.

President Roosevelt had urged last spring some measure to forestall enrichment of manufacturers who would get huge contracts to build airplanes and other weapons for the army and navy.

One of the major question-marks on the bill was whether it would supplement or repeal the new 7 per cent profit limitation on government airplane and warship contracts. Indications were that it would replace existing legislation.

STATE OFFICES CLOSED FOR THOMAS FUNERAL

Pittsburgh, July 22.—(P)—Associates of long standing served as pallbearers today for State Secretary of Mines John Ira Thomas, who died of heart and kidney ailments. Governor James ordered all offices closed during the funeral.

Among Pennsylvania mine inspectors acting as active and honorary pallbearers were Thomas Lowther, of Indiana, Pa., and William Loughman of DuBois, oldest retired mine inspectors in the state; Alexander McCann of Monongahela City, and F. M. Cunningham of Somerset, the state's oldest active mine inspectors.

MOTHER'S ILLNESS BRINGS CONN HOME

Pittsburgh, July 22.—(P)—Light Heavyweight Champion Billy Conn rushed home today from his New York training camp to be at the bedside of his mother while she undergoes a serious operation.

He will return to his Penn State training as soon as possible to resume work for his non-title heavyweight engagement with Bob Pastor on August 13 at the Polo Grounds.

London, July 22.—(P)—Charles Corbin, former French ambassador to Great Britain, was disclosed today to have sailed in a British liner for South America.

Parachutists Being Used to Combat Nature's "Blitzkriegs" in Timber Woods of Northwest

Missouri, Mont., July 22.—(P)—The United States Forest Service is effectively using parachutists to combat nature's "blitzkriegs" in the thickly timbered Pacific northwest.

Specially trained fire-fighters are dropped by parachute from chartered plane into areas where forest fires are reported. Usually working in pairs, the parachutists frequently are able to quell a fire before it has gained headway.

A six-man parachute crew stationed at the Moose Creek station in Idaho has done yeoman work in combating "dry-lightning" (lightning without rain) blazes, which so far this year have destroyed thousands of acres of forest in this region.

When a fire is sighted, a plane leaves Missoula for Moose Creek. It picks up the parachutists and drops them over the spot where the blaze is spotted.

Each "chutist has a long rope to let himself out of a tree in which he might happen to land, and each two some has a two-way radio set.

After the men land, packs are dropped containing concentrated rations for two days, a shovel, axe, pulaski (combination grub hoe and axe), flashlights, water bag, first aid kit and other supplies.

Forestry officials say a two-man unit can "whip any fire up to an acre and a half."

But Two Sections of the Country, Including Northern New England And Scattered Points in The Upper Great Lakes Region, Free From Oppressive Humidity Which Has Claimed Many Victims by Prostration

ABATEMENT POSSIBLE BY MIDDLE OF WEEK

No immediate relief was in prospect today from the midsummer heat wave which has engulfed most of the nation the past three days.

Only two sections of the country—northern New England and scattered points in the upper Great Lakes—escaped the oppressive heat which caused death to scores of persons by prostrations and drownings.

More than three score drowned as millions flocked to beaches and lakes seeking relief from the blistering heat wave. Deaths caused from the heat claimed another score or more.

Abnormally high temperatures prevailed yesterday in most of the middle west and portions of the middle Atlantic states.

The top marks of the day—111—were recorded in Needles, Cal., and Yuma, Ariz., while three other Arizona cities—Phoenix, Kingman and Tucson—had readings of 110, 108 and 105, respectively.

Baltimore sweltered in 100 degree temperature; Cincinnati had 97; Philadelphia, 96.6; Washington, 96; Columbus and Detroit, 94; Cleveland and Chicago, 93.

Today's temperatures, the weather bureau forecast, generally would equal or better yesterday's high marks. The bureau's only prediction for relief was that there might be local thunder showers.

Heat deaths reported by states: Pennsylvania, 5; Wisconsin, 3; South Dakota, 2; New York, 2; Ohio, 2; Minnesota, 1; Nebraska, 1; New Jersey, 1; Kansas, 1.

Drownings by states: Ohio, 13; Indiana, 10; New York, 7; Pennsylvania, 10; New Jersey, 6; Michigan, 5; Kentucky, 5; Illinois, 4; Minnesota, 3; Maryland, 2; Oregon, 1; West Virginia, 1; Missouri, 1.

While weather forecasters held out scant hope of relief from the heat, thermometer readings today edged toward the high nineties throughout Pennsylvania for the fourth straight day despite scattered showers in some sections.

Pittsburgh and Reading reported brief early morning showers and (Turn to Page Nine)

FORMER PRESIDENT OF LATVIA WOUNDED

London, July 22.—(P)—An Exchange Telegraph (British news agency) report from Gotenborg quoted Swedish sources today as saying that Karl Ulmanis, former president of Latvia, was gravely wounded and in a hospital at Riga.

Before transforming Latvia into a Socialist republic and petitioning for membership in the Soviet Union, the country's new Communist rulers decreed the ouster last week of 62-year-old Ulmanis, who helped write the Latvian declaration of independence in 1918.

Zeke Bonura Sold to Chicago Cubs

Chicago, July 22.—(P)—Outright purchase of First Baseman Zeke Bonura from the Washington Senators was announced today by the Chicago Cubs.

Bonura was acquired to fill a position which injury and sickness had suddenly made acute. Both Cub first basemen, Glenn (Rip) Russell and Phil Cavaretta, were incapacitated. Russell submitted to an emergency operation for appendicitis and Cavaretta fractured an ankle bone. Big Hank Lieber, slugging outfielder, has played the last four games at first.

In Washington President Clark Griffith of the Senators said Bonura had been sold for $10,000, after all money American League clubs had waived on him.

GOING TO RODEO

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 22.—(P)—Wendell L. Wilkie arranged to leave here today for the so-called "daddy of all rodeos" in Cheyenne, Wyo., tomorrow. The Republican presidential nominee was expected to fly from Cheyenne to Salt Lake City for a Latter Day Saints meeting and then return here.

WALTER JONES III

Pittsburgh, July 22.—(P)—Walter A. Jones, chairman of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission, has entered a hospital here to rest. "He had a little breakdown from going too hard but he ought to be out in about a week," his physician said today.

JUMPS IN FRONT OF MACHINE

Louis Stock, 18 Years Old, Victim of Accident on Route 27 Near His Home Shortly Before Noon Today When He Dismounts From Tractor Directly in Path of Automobile Driven by Forrest Rapp, Of Youngsville

OFFICIAL INQUIRY EXONERATES DRIVER

Jumping from the rear of a moving tractor directly into the path of a passing automobile, Louis Stock, 18-year-old Pittsfield township youth, was instantly killed about 11:30 this morning on Route 27, a half mile west of Pittsfield.

Stock had been riding on the rear bar of the tractor, operated by Homer Wolfe, 24, of Pittsfield township, who was hauling a log from Pittsfield to the residence of his father, George Wolfe, in front of whose home the accident occurred.

The tractor was being driven west along the right-hand berm, preparatory to turning into the Wolfe driveway, when Stock, who lived a quarter of a mile beyond the Wolfe home, stepped off the bar into the middle of the road and in the path of a car operated by Forrest Rapp, 29, of Youngsville, going in the same direction.

The victim was struck by the right front fender of the car and thrown about 45 feet, striking his head on the berm. A youngsville physician was called and found death had been instantaneous, caused directly by a crushed skull.

The accident is being investigated by Coroner Ed C. Lowrey and Privates J. R. Thompson and N. B. Johns, of the state motor police.

Homer Wolfe, the driver of the tractor, told the officials that he, accompanied by Stephen Swinkel, a neighbor, had been hailed by Stock at the bridge west of Pittsfield and that the victim had been riding on the left side of the bar.

It is believed that Stock's attention was on avoiding being struck by the log when he leaped from the tractor.

Wolfe and an occupant of the car, Cecil Fitzgerald, also of Youngsville, were not injured.

WOULD INCREASE EXPORT-IMPORT LENDING POWER

Washington, July 22.—(P)—President Roosevelt asked congress today to increase the lending power of the export-import bank by $500,000,000 so that it might be "of greater assistance to our neighbors south of the Rio Grande."

In a special message coincident with the Pan American conference at Havana, Mr. Roosevelt said that war in Europe was preventing the flow of surplus products from the western hemisphere to their normal markets.

"It is to be hoped," he said, "that before another year would trade can be re-established, but pending this adjustment, we in the United States should join with the peoples of the other republics of the Western Hemisphere in meeting this emergency."

Pittsburgh, July 22.—(P)—Walter A. Jones, chairman of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission, has entered a hospital here to rest. "He had a little breakdown from going too hard but he ought to be out in about a week," his physician said today.

GOING TO RODEO

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 22.—(P)—Wendell L. Wilkie arranged to leave here today for the so-called "daddy of all rodeos" in Cheyenne, Wyo., tomorrow. The Republican presidential nominee was expected to fly from Cheyenne to Salt Lake City for a Latter Day Saints meeting and then return here.

Ex-Senator Calls Third-Term Foes

Aged former Senator James A. Reed, above, of Missouri, long-time Democratic dissenter, has sent out a call for a meeting of anti-third term Democrats in Chicago. Reed led the ill-fated revolt of "Jeffersonian" Democrats against President Roosevelt in 1936.

ANNENBERG TO START SERVING PRISON TERM

Chicago, July 22.—(P)—M. L. Annenberg surrendered today to the United States marshal today to begin a trip to the U. S. penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa., where he must serve a three year term for evasion of income taxes.

Chief Deputy Marshal Joseph Tobin said Annenberg appeared at the Loop office of his chief counsel, Weymouth Kirkland, and that the marshal's office was advised by telephone.

Marshall William H. McDonnell went to the lawyer's office, prepared to start immediately by automobile for Lewisburg with his 63-year-old prisoner who once ruled the turf news field as one of the nation's wealthiest men.

The marshal said he and Deputy Joseph Thines would drive the 720 miles to Lewisburg in McDonnell's own coupe. The commitment papers had been prepared and waiting.

Annenberg, a Philadelphia publisher, thus began paying in time his debt to Uncle Sam for criminal violation of the income tax laws. He has also paid $800,000 as first installment on an $8,000,000 settlement he agreed to make to settle civil income tax claims.

Annenberg spent the weekend with his family in Philadelphia, then surrendered on the day his stay of execution expired. He was sentenced July 1 by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson and later denied his probation.

Uncle Sam already has the first installment of $800,000 on an $8,000,000 settlement the Philadelphia publisher and former turf news magnate agreed to pay as his civil income tax debt.

But Annenberg also has to pay three years in time, the penitentiary term imposed for criminal violation of the income tax laws.

A stay of execution which Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson granted July 1 when he sentenced Annenberg expired today and U. S. Marshal William H. McDonnell awaited the publisher's surrender.

Unless there are last minute changes in the arrangement, deputy marshals will escort their 63 year old prisoner to the federal institution at Lewisburg, Pa. Annenberg spent the weekend with his family in Philadelphia.

ZEKE BONURA SOLD TO CHICAGO CUBS

Chicago, July 22.—(P)—Outright purchase of First Baseman Zeke Bonura from the Washington Senators was announced today by the Chicago Cubs.

Bonura was acquired to fill a position which injury and sickness had suddenly made acute. Both Cub first basemen, Glenn (Rip) Russell and Phil Cavaretta, were incapacitated. Russell submitted to an emergency operation for appendicitis and Cavaretta fractured an ankle bone. Big Hank Lieber, slugging outfielder, has played the last four games at first.

In Washington President Clark Griffith of the Senators said Bonura had been sold for $10,000, after all other American League clubs had waived on him.

SCORES ARE DROWNED IN EFFORT TO ESCAPE RECORD TORRID WAVE

Rough Draft of An Excess Profits Tax Bill Being Prepared

Washington, July 22.—(P)—Administration tax experts brought out today the first rough draft of a bill to "prevent war millionaires."

It was an "excess profits" tax, to be levied on surplus revenue. Treasury and congressional workers indicated the measure of "surplus" would be either "normal earnings" or "reasonable return on capital investment," depending on the individual case.

President Roosevelt had urged last spring some measure to forestall enrichment of manufacturers who would get huge contracts to build airplanes and other weapons for the army and navy.

One of the major questions marks on the bill was whether it would supplement or repeal the new 7 per cent profit limitation on government airplane and warship contracts. Indications were that it would replace existing legislation.

STATE OFFICES CLOSED FOR THOMAS FUNERAL

Philipsburg, July 22.—(P)—Associates of long standing served as pallbearers today for State Secretary of Mines John Ira Thomas, who died of heart and kidney ailments. Governor James ordered all offices closed during the funeral.

Among Pennsylvania mine inspectors acting as active and honorary pallbearers were Thomas Lowther, of Indiana, Pa., and William Langham, of DuBois, oldest retired mine inspectors in the state; Alexander McCann of Monongahela City, and F. M. Cunningham of Somerset, the state's oldest active mine inspectors.

MOTHER'S ILLNESS BRINGS CONN HOME

Pittsburgh, July 22.—(P)—Light Heavyweight Champion Billy Conn rushed home today from his New York training camp to be at the bedside of his mother while she undergoes a serious operation.

He will return to his Ferndale quarters as soon as possible to resume work for his non-tittle heavyweight engagement with Bob Pastor on August 13 at the Polo Grounds.

CABINET INSTALLED

Parachutists Being Used to Combat Nature's "Blitzkriegs" in Timber Woods of Northwest

Missoula, Mont., July 22.—(P)—The United States Forest Service is effectively using parachutists to combat nature's "blitzkriegs" in the thickly timbered Pacific northwest.

Specially trained fire-fighters are dropped by parachute from chartered plane into areas where forest fires are reported. Usually working in pairs, the parachutists frequently are able to quell a fire before it has gained headway.

A six-man parachute crew stationed at the Moose Creek station in Idaho has done yeoman work in combatting "dry-lightning" (lightning without rain) blazes which so far this year have destroyed thousands of acres of forest.

But Two Sections of the Country, Including Northern New England and Scattered Points in The Upper Great Lakes Region, Free From Oppressive Humidity Which Has Claimed Many Victims by Prostration

ABATEMENT POSSIBLE BY MIDDLE OF WEEK

By The Associated Press
No immediate relief was in prospect today from the midsummer heat wave which has engulfed most of the nation the past three days.

Only two sections of the country—northern New England and scattered points in the upper Great Lakes—escaped the oppressive heat which caused death to scores of persons by prostrations and drownings.

More than three score drowned as millions flocked to beaches and lakes seeking relief from the blistering heat wave. Deaths caused from the heat claimed another score or more.

Abnormally high temperatures prevailed yesterday in most of the middle west and portions of the middle Atlantic states.

The top marks of the day—111—were recorded in Needles, Cal., and Yuma, Ariz., while three other Arizona cities—Phoenix, Kingman and Tucson—had readings of 110, 108 and 105, respectively.

Baltimore sweltered in 100 degree temperature; Cincinnati had 97; Philadelphia, 96; Washington, 96; Columbus and Detroit, 94; Cleveland and Chicago, 93.

Today's temperatures, the weather bureau forecast, generally would equal or better yesterday's high marks. The bureau's only prediction for relief was that there might be local thunder showers.

Heat deaths reported by states: Pennsylvania, 8; Wisconsin, 3; South Dakota, 2; New York, 2; Ohio, 2; Minnesota, 1; Nebraska, 1; New Jersey, 1; Kansas, 1.

Drownings by states: Ohio, 13; Indiana, 10; New York, 7; Pennsylvania, 10; New Jersey, 6; Michigan, 5; Kentucky, 5; Illinois, 4; Minnesota, 3; Maryland, 2; Oregon, 1; West Virginia, 1; Missouri, 1.

While weather forecasters held out scant hope of relief from the heat, thermometer readings today edged toward the high nineties throughout Pennsylvania for the fourth straight day despite scattered showers in some sections.

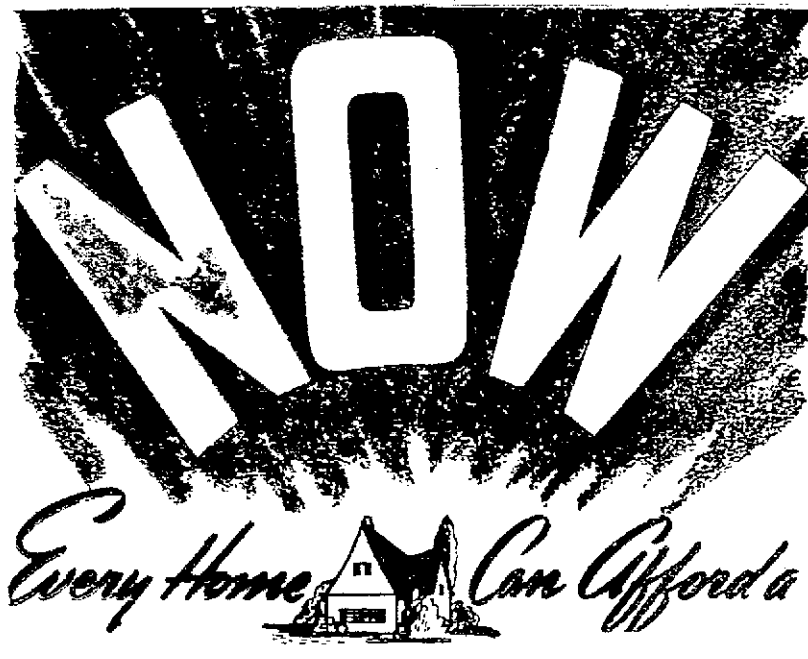

Pittsburgh and Reading reported brief early morning showers and (Turn to Page Nine)

FORMER PRESIDENT OF LATVIA WOUNDED

London, July 22.—(P)—An Exchange Telegraph (British news agency) report from Goteborg quoted Swedish sources today as saying that Karl Umanis, former president of Latvia, was gravely wounded and in a hospital at Riga.

Before transforming Latvia into a Socialist republic and petitioning for membership in the Soviet Union, the country's new Communist rulers decreed the ouster last week of 62-year-old Umanis, who helped write the Latvian declaration of independence in 1918.

Brokenstraw Flying Field Reports Many Enjoying Activities

The excellent flying weather of the past few weeks has induced many pilots of the Brokenstraw Flying school to enjoy many hours in the air.

Recent cross-country flights by our boys include trips to State College, by Cornell Johnson, his return passenger being Miss Geri Cornish; to Cleveland by Louie Vistock; to Pittsburgh by Jesse York, besides numerous short trips by other pilots.

John Manelick and Bob McKinney are our most recent solo flyers and both are doing a fine job of flying.

Franklin Lucie has received his C. A. A. flight instructor's rating at the Pittsburgh-Butler airport and has accepted a position there as flight instructor.

Several girls and young men now taking instructions from instructor Rensma intend to make their solo flights soon.

The boys are looking forward to flying the new special training ship that is expected at the Brokenstraw Airport in a few days. This airplane will be especially suitable for cross-country work, as it is powered by a 65 H. P. Lycoming engine and equipped with brakes.

We wish to extend our congratulations to the Warren Airport on securing the government C. A. A. program. We wish to announce that we expect to have a similar program at Brokenstraw Airport in the near future.

The increasing flying activities have compelled instructor Rensma to resign his position with the Warren County Dairy. He now will devote his full time to operating his flying school.

TIMES TOPICS

UNNECESSARY CALL

The fire department was called to the hill above Fifth avenue, west, about 4:15 o'clock Sunday afternoon but the run was chalked up as unnecessary. It appears that some children were using a fireplace which is erected there and neighbors, seeing the smoke, thought there was a grass fire in progress. The fire was out by the time firemen arrived.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Marriage license applications have been received by Register and Recorder O. E. Loper from the following couples: Vernon R. Leet, of Jamestown, and Laura Belle Schaefer Betts, of this city; Edwin L. Wightman, of Bradford, and Marilyn Brown, of Warren; John K. Benson, of North Warren, and Edna Hillman Young, of Warren.

HELD FOR COURT

Frank "Mickey" Dalton is in the county jail in default of $500 bond after pleading not guilty to a charge of driving during the period of the suspension of his operator's license. Dalton, arrested by Private N. B. Johns, of the state motor police, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace T. Richard Evans and waived hearing. According to the officers, Dalton's license was automatically suspended a year ago when he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated, for which he received a suspended sentence.

SLIGHTLY HURT

Four Warren county residents were slightly injured Saturday night about 11:45 when cars driven by Ralph P. Haight, of R. D. 2, and Willard Zerbe, of R. D. 3, collided on the Yankee Bush road. Haight received a laceration of the knee. Zerbe bruised chest and two occupants of the latter's car, George Zerbe and John Fugas, both of CCC Camp 13, suffered lacerations. George Zerbe was treated at the Warren General Hospital and discharged. Private K. W. Leeper, of the state motor police, who investigated the accident, stated he will file charges of driving too fast for conditions against Zerbe and failing to dim headlights against Haight.

2 DRAMATIC HITS OPEN TODAY AT COLUMBIA

"And One Was Beautiful" Billie Burke, who plays the mother of Jean Muir and Lorraine Day in "And One Was Beautiful," coming today to the Columbia Theatre, still sings, but not for the screen. The noted stage star began her career in musical comedy and has never dropped her singing although she went into dramatic work and was heard no more before the footlights. The only time she has sung in a picture was as the Good Fairy in "The Wizard of Oz."

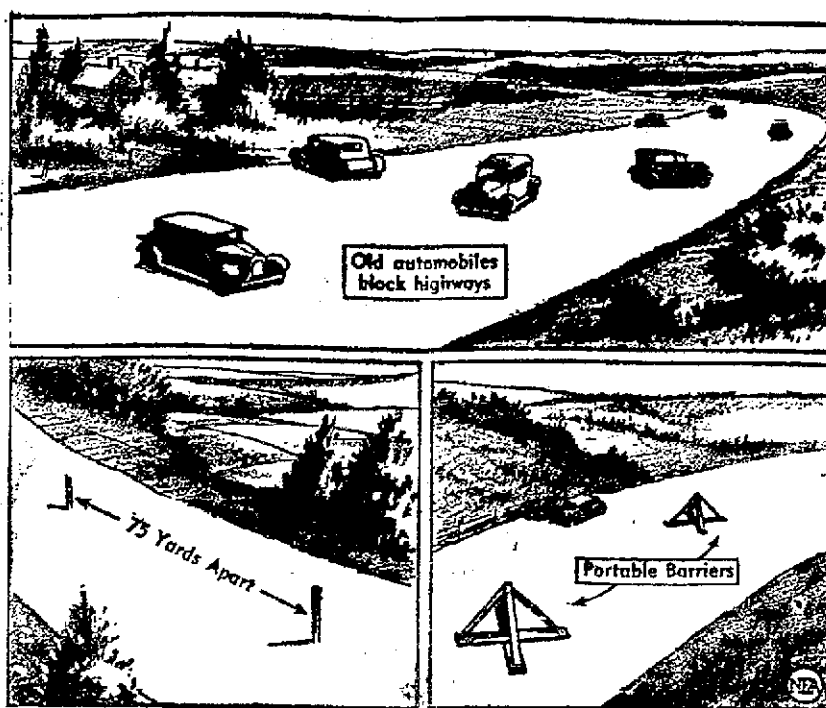

"But I take lessons and practice just the same," she says. "In pictures one never knows."

"Primrose Path" The problem of whether a young girl's social outlook on life can be influenced by an unsavory environment, is confronted in the heart-grabbing theme of "Primrose Path," starring Ginger Rogers and Joel McCrea.

Ered of a sorry family dwelling in the branded section of town, Miss Rogers, playing a friendless little boyden, is disillusioned with life until she suddenly falls in love with a young tradesman. It is around her efforts to be a good wife and break the ties which bind her to her parasitic family that the engrossing human drama deals.

COULDN'T WAIT

Hurrying into the house to quench his thirst as the thermometer pounded above 90, 14-year-old James Rossman, of Franklin, tried to remove the cap of a soft drink bottle with his teeth and it lodged in his throat, says an Associated Press dispatch. Now he can't eat but still is able to breathe fairly well.

DRILLING SPURTS

Drilling operations in Jefferson county's natural gas area are reported at the highest peak in several seasons with dozens of rigs operating and 150 men working for several big companies and independents, according to a dispatch from Brookville. Increased activity is believed due to the gas shortage suffered last winter.

TEMPERATURE IS UP

Warren residents yesterday experienced the hottest day of the season, with the mercury climbing close to the 90 mark. At the mixing plant of the Pennsylvania Gas Company, Conewango avenue, the high temperature recorded yesterday afternoon was 85. In several other parts of town the mercury hovered around the 80 mark.

NEW CERTIFICATES In the future, couples who receive their marriage licenses in Warren county will receive an attractive certificate instead of a small portion of the register and recorder's form. The new forms printed for Register and Recorder Loper's office include a larger certificate, similar to those issued in many other counties of the state.

PLEADS GUILTY

William Templeton, of the Warren-Kinzua road, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace T. Richard Evans this morning and entered a plea of guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was held for the next term of court in bail of $1,000 which was furnished. The charge was brought by Private E. P. Wightman, of Bradford, and Marilyn Brown, of Warren; John K. Stevenson, of North Warren, and Edna Hillman Young, of Warren.

HELD FOR COURT

Frank "Mickey" Dalton is in the county jail in default of $500 bond after pleading not guilty to a charge of driving during the period of the suspension of his operator's license. Dalton, arrested by Private N. B. Johns, of the state motor police, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace T. Richard Evans and waived hearing. According to the officers, Dalton's license was automatically suspended a year ago when he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated, for which he received a suspended sentence.

SLIGHTLY HURT

Four Warren county residents were slightly injured Saturday night about 11:45 when cars driven by Ralph P. Haight, of R. D. 2, and Willard Zerbe, of R. D. 3, collided on the Yankee Bush road. Haight received a laceration of the knee, Zerbe a bruised chest and two occupants of the latter's car, George Zerbe and John Fugas, both of CCC Camp 13, suffered lacerations. George Zerbe was treated at the Warren General Hospital and discharged. Private K. W. Leeper, of the state motor police, who investigated the accident, stated he will file charges of driving too fast for conditions against Zerbe and failing to dim headlights against Haight.

AMUSEMENTS

2 DRAMATIC HITS OPEN TODAY AT COLUMBIA

"And One Was Beautiful" Billie Burke, who plays the mother of Jean Muir and Laraine Day in "And One Was Beautiful," coming today to the Columbia Theatre, still sings, but not for the screen. The noted stage star began her career in musical comedy and never dropped her singing although she went into dramatic work and was heard no more before the footlights. The only time she has sung in a picture was as the Good Fairy in "The Wizard of Oz."

"But I take lessons and practice just the same," she says. "In pictures one never knows."

"Primrose Path"

The problem of whether a young girl's social outlook on life can be influenced by an unsavory environment, is confronted in the heart-grabbing theme of "Primrose Path" starring Ginger Rogers and Joel McCrea.

Bred of a sorry family dwelling in the branded section of town, Miss Rogers, playing a friendless little hoyden, is disillusioned with life until she suddenly falls in love with a young tradesman. It is around her efforts to be a good wife and break the ties which bind her to her parasitic family that the engrossing human drama deals.

Reunion, an island in the Indian ocean, is an integral part of France, represented in parliament at Paris by a senator and two deputies.

The building on the Wilson Waters property on Liberty street, recently converted into a parking lot, will soon be but a memory. Workmen today began razing the house to make more parking space available.

SECRETARY STABBED

Harold Lee Coulter, secretary of the Sharon Odd Fellows lodge, is in the hospital because he had no money. A negro accosted him with a demand for cash. Coulter said he had none and was stabbed three times in the back.

REAR ADMIRAL DIES

Death claimed Rear Admiral Charles Frederick Howell at Ansonville, near Clearfield, where he bought a farm two weeks ago, according to the Associated Press. He retired three weeks ago after 41 years of service in the coast guard.

HURT IN FALL

Mrs. Harriet Schindler, 69, of 109 Pennsylvania avenue, west, is in the Warren General Hospital with a fracture of the left leg, sustained Saturday evening when she fell down the porch steps at the home of friends in Linwood street. Her condition is reported to be good.

GULF OFFICIALS SUCCEMB

A brief illness caused the death yesterday of Howard C. Meyer, 53, general manager of refined sales and operation of the Gulf Oil Corporation, says an Associated Press dispatch from Greenville. Elmer Rygg, 41, assistant advertising manager of the company, also died of a heart attack during the week-end at Thornburg.

COULDN'T WAIT

Hurrying into the house to quench his thirst as the thermometer pounded above 90, 14-year-old James Rossmann, of Franklin, tried to remove the cap of a soft drink bottle with his teeth and it lodged in his throat, says an Associated Press dispatch. Now he can't eat but still is able to breathe fairly well.

DRILLING SPURTS

Drilling operations in Jefferson county's natural gas area are reported at the highest peak in several seasons with dozens of rigs operating and 150 men working for several big companies and independents, according to a dispatch from Brookville. Increased activity is believed due to the gas shortage suffered last winter.

TEMPERATURE IS UP

Warren residents yesterday experienced the hottest day of the season, with the mercury climbing close to the 90 mark. At the mixing plant of the Pennsylvania Gas Company, Conewago avenue, the high temperature recorded yesterday afternoon was 85. In several other parts of town the mercury hovered around the 90 mark.

NEW CERTIFICATES

In the future, couples who receive their marriage licenses in Warren county will receive an attractive certificate instead of a small portion of the register and recorder's form. The new forms printed for Register and Recorder Coper's office include a larger certificate, similar to those issued in many other counties of the state.

PLEADS GUILTY

William Templeton, of the Warren-Kinzua road, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace T. Richard Evans this morning and entered a plea of guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was held for the next term of court in bail of $1,000 which was furnished. The charge was brought by Private E. P. Treglia, of the state motor police, following an accident near the Picnic Run Service Station on Route 6, east of Warren Friday night, in which Templeton and an occupant of his car, Fred Guthrie, were slightly injured.

WARREN YOUNG WOMAN BECOMES GIRLS' DIRECTOR

Miss Martha McConnell, of Warren, is one of the thirty-eight young people who will be consecrated to missionary service under the Board of Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist church, in the Chicago Temple, Chicago, on Wednesday evening. This is the first group of missionaries to be consecrated under the new board of the recently united Methodist church which has a membership of some 8,000,000 persons throughout the United States.

Miss McConnell, on June 1, became the director of girls' work in the West Side Community House, Cleveland, Ohio.

Thirty-five bishops of the Methodist church, together with more than 100 leading Methodist pastors, laymen and laywomen from every section of the United States, comprising this new board, will meet in the La Salle Hotel and the Chicago Temple, Chicago, July 23 to 25, to organize the home and foreign mission work of the denomination for 1940 to 1944. Bishop Charles C. Seelman of Oklahoma City, will preside.

These delegates were chosen at the jurisdictional conferences held in various sections of the country in June and July. They come from every state. The laywomen equal in number the laymen and pastors combined—a new feature in church organization. This will be their first meeting, and their major task will be that of organization of officers and staffs for its four major divisions: Division of Foreign Missions, Division of Home Missions and Church Extension, Women's Division of Christian Service, and Joint Division of Education and Cultivation.

This new board and its four divisions unites into one body missionary and related activities formerly carried on by nine different boards and societies before the recent formation of the Methodist church by the merging of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, and the Methodist Protestant church. At the Chicago meeting there will be elected a president, vice-presidents, executive secretaries, treasurers and other officers for each of the divisions of the board.

The consecration service is one of the highlights of the three-day session of the board. Like the board itself, the new missionaries represent a cross-section of the country and of the church.

Boys and girls two and three years old chose virtually the same toys, but girls show greater interest in drawing, painting and clay modeling.

The deadly climate of Sierra Leone, Guinea coast settlement founded originally in 1788 for freed slaves, has made the area known as the "white man's grave."

WARREN COUNTY STUDENTS TAKE SUMMER COURSE

Ten from Warren county are among the 2,843 students enrolled in the main summer session now being held at the Pennsylvania State College, according to information received from the school today. The sessions opened July 1 and will continue until August 9th.

According to Registrar William S. Hoffman, this figure, together with last month's record high inter-session enrollment and the anticipated post-session enrollment, will produce one of the highest all-summer totals in the college's history. The post-session will extend from August 12 to 30.

The students now enrolled, many of whom are public school teachers pursuing graduate studies, are taking courses in all fields of academic work.

Those from Warren county include: Mary L. Hickey, of Clarendon; Marion M. Robertson, of Irvine; Bruce E. Geddes, of Kinzua; Edith E. Chamberlain and Nellie E. Titus, of Sheffield; Eugene I. Tulley, of Sugar Grove; Helen B. Lodge, of Tidoute; Alice A. Kelly, of Torpedo; Katherine M. Hutchinson and Jane F. McGarry, of Warren.

SEVENTH DEGREE PLANS AGRICULTURE

At the quarterly meeting of the Warren County Seventh Degree Association, held Thursday evening at the Youngsville Grange hall, plans were made for a special meeting in September for the purpose of promoting the seventh degree class to be initiated in Syracuse in November. Members of the Chautauque county, N. Y., seventh degree group will be invited to the meeting in September.

A ways and means committee named to make arrangements for the meeting was named, consisting of Ralph Samuelson, of Valley Grange; Flossie Schweitzer, of Warren Grange; and David Van Orsdale, of Ackley Grange. The supper committee for the September meeting consists of Ruth Fausbald, of Ackley Grange, and Mrs. Henry Smokey, of Warren.

To fill vacancies in the official family of the association for the balance of the year, Mrs. Florence Price, present secretary, was also elected treasurer, and Mrs. Ida Schreck was named chaplain.

American educational institutions received approximately $17,000,000 in gifts and bequests in 1939.

The lady has the right idea . . .

The newspaper can be very rough on family discipline . . . but when you're an advertiser with a bill of goods to sell, it can do things for your sales curve that will warm the chambers of your heart.

Take a tip from this outraged wife-and-mother . . . if you have anything to say to the family, or to any member of it, have your message "printed in the paper." The newspaper has always had a way of capturing and holding the attention of the entire family . . . and of doing a first-class selling job for advertisers.

And today, when interest in news of the world is at such a high pitch, the newspaper is naturally a more logical, more economical, more profitable place for your advertising than ever before.

SOME OF THE ADVANTAGES OF NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

With newspaper advertising you can . . . (1) reach the LARGEST NUMBER of your potential customers . . . (2) tell your story to the WHOLE FAMILY . . . (3) concentrate your efforts on the markets that offer the BEST OPPORTUNITIES . . . (4) TIME YOUR ADVERTISING to meet your needs and changing conditions . . . (5) get QUICK RESULTS when you want them . . . (6) BUILD GOOD-WILL as well as sales . . . (7) tie your message TO THE NEWS and make it more interesting . . . (8) give your ads a LOCAL TOUCH, a home-town flavor . . . (9) ILLUSTRATE YOUR PRODUCT and its uses . . . (10) NAME THE LOCAL STORES that sell your product . . . (11) step up DEALER DISTRIBUTION and dealer cooperation . . . and (12) do all this at a LOWER COST than with any other medium.

Big Gun for Industry!

Not a giant among cannons, but ammunition for industrial defense. This huge 130,000-pound shaft, pictured in General Electric's Schenectady, N. Y., plant, will help build one of the 75,000-horsepower generators which will turn waters stored behind the government-built Bonneville, Ore., dam into electricity for industrial production.

IMPORTANT CONFERENCE

Readers should not overlook the importance of the Pan-American conference which opened at Havana yesterday and is expected to continue for the next ten days.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull is chairman of the United States delegation to the meeting, which may go down in history as the jumping-off point for war or peace between the old and new worlds.

The conference is regarded in Washington and in South America as possibly the most important inter-American meeting ever held.

Its problems will be approached—as Secretary Hull says—in a spirit of friendliness to all nations which are willing to conduct themselves on the basis of peace and friendship.

Problem No. one is that of European possessions in the western hemisphere. A course of action must be determined, in case the sovereignty of these areas is changed or threatened.

Problem No. two is the expected German effort to bring American nations under Nazi influence, through commercial and economic penetration following the war. In this connection the United States already has warned Germany that she will tolerate no Nazi interference with the principles of the Monroe Doctrine.

But there already is evidence that there will be considerable difficulty in ironing out the second of these problems, which includes the United States' proposal for a cartel to handle all production surpluses of the hemisphere. Nazi influence already has a strong grip on some of the South American countries and the cartel plan, proposed to maintain the American standard of living in the face of lowered standards of Europe under Hitler, is likely to be a costly experiment.

But some iron-clad agreement is necessary and it is hoped that at least the preliminaries can be worked out at the Havana meeting.

DON'T BLAME THE WAR

The European war is the public's favorite explanation of cold and rainy weather of the present year.

This report comes from the records of S. K. Pearson, for 35 years cooperative observer at Plainsfield, N. J., for the United States Weather Bureau.

People did exactly the same thing in the World War he says. The reason is a popular belief that large-scale explosions affect weather. Pearson indicates however, the detonations in Europe don't even affect the weather there, let alone here.

There is always, in his experience, some fantastic explanation for unusual weather spells. Radio and "its many air waves" was one. Another common belief is that some astronomical event causes bad weather. Mar's proximity, the lining up of certain planets and positions of the moon are examples.

WELCOME HOME!

The long and trying effort to bring home from war-torn Europe every American whose presence there is not urgently required is now nearing its end. More than 21,000 Americans, by co-operation of the State Department and the U. S. Maritime Commission, have now returned to their home land.

There have been unpleasant and uncomfortable incidents in the course of so big an emergency job. That was unavoidable. But in the main, crowded and uncomfortable passengers, harassed and over-worked stewards and stewardesses, and worried government and steamer officials all pulled together in the face of emergency conditions in such a way as to bring credit to the whole operation.

It is a chapter which reflects credit on the growing American merchant marine, and which augurs happily for its future.

Folks who had feared that it might never "warm up" have had ample evidence the past few days that old man mercury can still pack a wallop.

The Citizens' Fourth of July committee is about to close up the books on the 1940 celebration with all bills paid, thanks to an appreciative community.

F. D. I-WILLKIE SCRAP OUTWEIGHS PARTY PLATFORMS

(This is the first of two articles by Bruce Catton sizing up the main issues in the presidential election.)

BY BRUCE CATTON
Times-Mirror Washington Correspondent

Washington, July 22.—The main lines of what will be a historic presidential contest are rapidly becoming visible.

Reduced to the simplest terms, the fight will be a straight-out scrap between Willkie and Roosevelt, their strengths and their weaknesses, their personalities and their records. Except in so far as they bear on the two leaders, the party platforms are of little importance.

The Republicans obviously are going to hammer away at the third-term issue. They began to chirp about it at Philadelphia; dissenting Democrats like Carter Glass gave them some brand-new ammunition at Chicago.

On the more positive side, the Republicans can be expected to jump on the national defense bandwagon in a big way.

They will argue (as speeches at Philadelphia clearly foreshadowed) that the nation's great need is for a super-executive, an organizer, a man who can unite all factions and can get willing co-operation out of the nation's tremendous industrial and financial machinery. Roosevelt, it will be urged, has had eight years and still hasn't got things clicking; Willkie will be presented as the one man who can do the job.

The Democrats' convention plainly showed they will hit the "power trust" and Wall Street angles just as hard as the Republicans hit the third term. Speaker Bankhead gave a tip-off in his keynote speech, when he dwelt lovingly on "ruthless and unconscionable holding companies" and inquired caustically if any of his audience had ever heard of the collapse of the Insull empire.

The platform went much further. It asserted the Roosevelt administration had brought the people their first victory in the long fight against the "power monopoly," and declared Willkie's nomination raised the issue "whether the nation's water power shall be used for all the people or for the selfish interests of a few."

The rest of the Democratic strategy sums up to an effort to make this fight a clear-cut one between reaction (as represented by Willkie) and progressivism.

This year's Democratic platform is a most uncompromising New Deal document. It defends all the New Deal measures in strong terms.

The New Dealers profess to see Willkie as the incarnation of reaction. They are planning their campaign on that basis.

Lastly—the Democrats will mention that Willkie is an ex-Democrat himself, though they probably won't emphasize this much. And they probably won't dwell very long on the familiar story of the closed banks and breadlines of 1932. Their speakers tried that at Chicago and it fell awfully flat.

NEXT—Sizing up the vice presidential nomination.

STORIES IN STAMPS

New Airmail Line Adds 8000 Miles to U. S. System

WHEN the U. S. 16-cent airmail stamp, above, bearing the official insignia of airmail service, was released in 1924, U. S. foreign airmail service was still in the experimental stages. There was a short route operating between Seattle and Victoria, Canada, inaugurated in 1920, and attempts had been made to connect Key West and Havana by air, but the venture was short-lived. Regular service between J. S. and Cuba was not achieved until 1927.

Today, the 8000-mile U. S.-New Zealand air route adds the last important link in the network of air lines connecting America with all parts of the world, increases U. S. foreign airmail system to approximately 40,000 miles.

In 1939, planes flew 5,357,405 miles, transporting 545,554 pounds of mail. In 1928, the foreign airmail mileage was 99,530 miles.

Less spectacular, but equally important, was the recent inauguration of airmail service from Seattle to Juneau, Alaska, bringing the territory only seven hours from continental United States.

VALUABLE SUN GLASSES

Probably the most expensive sun glasses ever made are a $2000 pair in New York City, which are set with small diamonds around the rims and two-carat square-cut diamonds in the center.

TOXOPHILITE ENTHUSIASTS

Members of toxophilite societies are interested in archery, since the word comes from two Greek words meaning a "love of the bow." A group of archery enthusiasts organized the Royal Toxophilite Society in England, in 1781, still extant.

Nearly one-half of Oregon's 60,000,000 acres is forest land.

A Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON — Notes from the cuff of an old shirt worn at Chicago:

Was there ever a convention like this one? I'd say not. All the delegates were angling for second place. Paul V. McNutt even had a 30-by-20 foot picture of President Roosevelt hanging in his headquarters. You could ask headquarters of half a dozen other candidates and never find out whether they were running for President or Vice President.

The McNutt headquarters, by the way, themselves deserve more than a paragraph. Acres and acres of red, white and blue bunting, draped along the walls of a palatial suite, any room of which, with its crystal chandeliers, might have been used for a grand ballroom for the annual Elks' frolic out in my home town. As one wanderer put it: "Reminds me of Babylon." But when I asked him if he'd ever been to Babylon, he said no, it was just those pictures he used to see in his grandma's illustrated history of the world.

'Sulking Room'

McNUTT had picked "God Bless America" as his theme song when the Democratic national committee did likewise. Whereupon McNutt told his entertainers to learn something else. I can't tell you what they learned. Sounded like an Indiana melody to me. And persons passing within earshot would yell: "We want Willkie!"

Best crack of the convention: "Say, looks like there's some sort of convention in town; what do you suppose it is?" "I don't know, but from the looks of things, I think it's got something to do with the school teachers."

Over in the Blackstone, where the all-important resolutions committee held all their conclaves—on the same floor and just across the hall—was a glass-paneled

A Mind Changes

BIGGEST surprise (to me) at the convention: When Maury Merriam, the mayor of San Antonio, went before the resolutions committee and made a regular old Texas ear-bender for a vigorous, active, fightin' foreign policy plank in the Democratic platform. Talk about turn-coating! Just a few years ago, in Carnegie Hall in New York City, I heard Maury, congressman then, make a rip-roaring speech about keeping out of foreign entanglements and preserving peace at any price. I don't mean to insinuate that Maury is wishy-washy. I'm just telling you what phenomenal things have happened to one of our dyed-in-the-wool pacifists because of the foreign situation.

Biggest surprise (to most Democrats) was when Guy Warren, the Texas oil man, opened his Palmer House headquarters for the "Nominate Willkie" campaign. One delegate said, "Say, what's that guy want to do, eat his cake and eat it? Willkie already has been nominated, eh?" And a half dozen lists—ers—in replied: "You're tellin' us."

Biggest build-up to a terrific let-down was when that Milton, Wash., donkey, "Boston Curtis," that had been named a Republican precinct committeeman, hopped into the Stevens lobby, "to return to the Democratic fold." All the boys had been tipped off and were planning to make a big story out of it. When the donkey walked in he had on a blanket advertising a beer stub.

SOME BOOK CHARACTERS
How is your store of knowledge on literature? Here are five questions about authors and their works to test you.

1. Who was the character, in the Arabian Nights who opened the cave of the Forty Thieves by using the word "sesame"?
2. What was the outstanding physical characteristic of Cyrano de Bergerac in Rostand's play of that name?
3. Who was Elia?
4. The word malapropism, denoting the grotesque misuse of a word, was derived from the name of a character in a play. Can you give the name of the character, the play and the author?
5. What was the name of the peasant who acted as squire for Don Quixote on his wanderings?

K. OF C. PICNIC AT YOUNGVILLE ATTRACTS MANY

Approximately 250 persons were in attendance at the 35th annual picnic of the Knights of Columbus, held Sunday at Island Park in Youngville. With ideal weather prevailing, the Knights and their families and friends reported the event a huge success.

The day's activities were started with a five-inning softball game between the two K. of C. teams of the Fraternal League, in which the No. 1 team won. This was followed by a penny scramble for the little tots, with a large number enjoying the hunt for a couple hundred pennies in the sawdust.

Various contests were then held as follows:

Race for boys, 6 to 8, won by Jimmie Walters; girls, 6 to 8, Corrine Culbertson; boys, 9 to 11, Robert Cohan; girls, 9 to 11, Dorothy Hodges; boys, 12 to 14, Tom Juhlano; girls, 12 to 14, Joyce Walters; hop, skip and jump, Joseph Walters; broad jump for girls, Joyce Walters; egg balancing for ladies, Mrs. Ed Lynch; sack race for boys, Jim Walters; sack race for girls, Loretta Cohan; three-legged race, Jack Klein and Dick Lucia; pie eating contest for boys, Leonard Lucia; egg throwing contest for ladies, Mrs. Joseph Darnold and Mrs. Louis Casser; balloon bursting contest for boys, Vincent Gray; watermelon eating contest for girls, Joyce Walters.

In the tug-of-war, the married men defeated the single men, but the latter got their revenge in a short ball game by a score of 11 to 3.

Free skating tickets were then distributed and a number enjoyed a whirl at the rink between 7:30 and 10:30 o'clock.

The biggest event of the day was supper, which was enjoyed by all. Following supper, prizes for the contests were distributed and special awards presented. Most noted of these was taken by Mr. and Mrs. Will Gray, who were by far the longest married couple on the grounds, being just two years short of their golden wedding anniversary.

The second award for the largest family on the grounds was taken by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Walters, with Mr. and Mrs. Jim De-Stephano taking the award for the second largest family.

A 16-pound ham was awarded to Elizabeth Wells and a basket of groceries to Mrs. Mike Cicero.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK — Last night we went backstage at the Plymouth theater in west 45th street and had a perfectly delightful talk with an old friend of ours, Lyle Talbot. We hadn't seen him, since he was a leading man in a midwest stock company, so there was a lot of ground to cover as we sat there chewing over old times. That was an interesting stock company, the Harlan company of Columbus, and it gave four successive lead- ing men to Hollywood. The first was Ralph Harold, still in pictures. Donn Cook was next, and Donn has just finished a long run on Broadway in "Skylark" with Gertrude Lawrence, who got married in Connecticut a couple of weeks ago. The third leading man to jump from Columbus to the films was Melvyn Douglas, and finally Lyle himself.

Although there are only a dozen plays on Broadway, Lyle's is one of these. It is a comedy called "Separate Rooms," and that it has gradually won its way into box office favor has been something of a personal triumph for Lyle Talbot, and for Glenda Farrell and Alan Dinehart, who are the three now opened to melancholy notices and this is nearly always fatal. But since then at least 25 plays, many of them bearing the best names of the Broadway theater, have come and gone.

"It looks like it will run through the summer and into the winter," Lyle said. "Every week it gets stronger and stronger."

ONE of the girls in the Colum-bus company, when Lyle was its leading man, was a tall, serious girl with long gangling legs who used to like to walk in the rain and, so many believed, be like Garbo. Her name then was Jean Fullerton and she was altogether sincere in her devotion to the theater. Later she too turned up in pictures and made quite a success for herself under the name of Jean Muir. Jean was a Scot, and as I remember her telling it, she came over to this country when she was only a lassie of seven. Her mother still lives in New York and, for fun, runs a tiny but very attractive bookshop not far from Sheridan Sq.

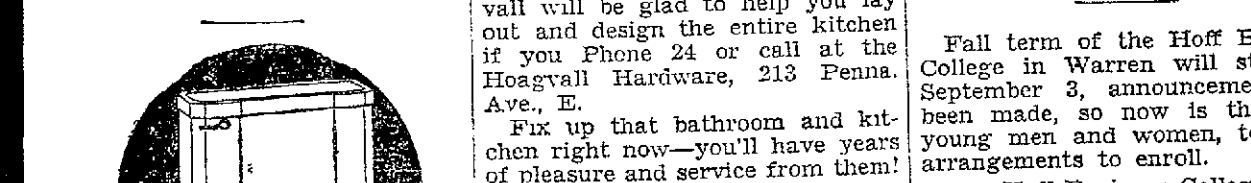

Lyle's dressingroom looks out on a fireescape that leads down into 45th street. As he talked he said, "Don't let me forget to close that window when we go out. I've been leaving it open lately, and the other night while I was on stage someone climbed up the fireescape and rolled me for $125."

NEW YORK isn't always kind to its visitors from Holly- wood, and I asked Lyle if he had noticed—as a general thing—the attitude of the critics toward newcomers from pictures.

"It's like this," he said. "I'm no more a Hollywood actor than you are. I'm a stage actor. They asked me to go out to Hollywood and make a few pictures, which I did. But I was on the stage before I ever heard of Hollywood, and I've never considered myself as any thing other than a stage actor. I have noticed that attitude. That is why I am so gratified with the way "Separate Rooms" has turned out. It is a sort of personal little victory for Glenda and Alan and myself. All of us have new offers to go back to Hollywood since this play has caught on, but we refused. We are going to stay right here and have some fun. We may not go on the road with it next year the New York run, but that is looking ahead."

HOAGVALL HAS PLUMBING LINE FOR ALL HOMES

is inexpensive yet here is a much used room which should be modern in every sense of the word, both for the benefit of the family and for visiting friends and relatives. For many people are judged by the way they keep their bathrooms when there are strangers in the house.

The kitchen, too, should have modern equipment and Mr. Hoagvall will be glad to help you lay out and design the entire kitchen if you Phone 24 or call at the Hoagvall Hardware, 213 Penna. Ave., E.

Fix up that bathroom and kitchen right now—you'll have years of pleasure and service from them!

Presenting the New CAMEL WATER SAVER

Today the modern home owner is very conscious of the fact that it pays to have the finest and latest in plumbing fixtures, particularly in the bathroom and kitchen, the Hoagvall Hardware, 213 Penna. Ave., E. declares in calling attention to their fixture line and plumbing service.

Yet plumbing fixtures need not necessarily cost a fortune. And regardless of cost, they serve for so many years that this feature should not even be considered.

But take the new Camel water saver pictured above. You'd guess it costs twice as much. Today's biggest advance in plumbing fixtures is represented in this new water saver. For here is a fixture of exceptional mechanical quality and smart design which includes many desirable features you would ordinarily get only in far more costly fixtures. Your money cannot buy more value, Mr. Hoagvall says.

K. OF C. PICNIC AT YOUNGSVILLE ATTRACTS MANY

Approximately 250 persons were in attendance at the 35th annual picnic of the Knights of Columbus, held Sunday at Island Park in Youngsville. With ideal weather prevailing, the Knights and their families and friends reported the event a huge success.

The day's activities were started with a five-inning softball game between the two K. of C. teams of the Fraternal League, in which the No. 1 team won. This was followed by a penny scramble for the little tots, with a large number enjoying the hunt for a couple hundred pennies in the sawdust.

Various contests were then held as follows:

Race for boys, 6 to 8, won by Jimmie Walters; girls, 6 to 8, Corinne Culbertson; boys, 9 to 11, Robert Cohan; girls, 9 to 11, Dorothy Hodges; boys, 12 to 14, Tom Juliano; girls, 12 to 14, Joyce Walters; hop, skip and jump, Joseph Walters; broad jump for girls, Joyce Walters; egg balancing for ladies, Mrs. Ed Lynch; sack race for boys, Jim Walters; sack race for girls, Loretta Cohan; three-legged race, Jack Klein and Dick Lucia; pie eating contest for boys, Leonard Lucia; egg throwing contest for ladies, Mrs. Joseph Diamond and Mrs. Louis Casses; balloon bursting contest for boys, Vincent Gray; watermelon eating contest for girls, Joyce Walters.

In the tug-of-war, the married men defeated the single men, but the latter got their revenge in a short ball game by a score of 11 to 3.

Free skating tickets were then distributed and a number enjoyed a whirl at the rink between 7:30 and 10:30 o'clock.

The biggest event of the day was supper, which was enjoyed by all. Following supper, prizes for the contests were distributed and special awards presented. Most noted of these were taken by Mr. and Mrs. Will Gray, who were by far the longest married couple on the grounds, being just two years short of their golden wedding anniversary.

The second award for the largest family on the grounds was taken by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Walters, with Mr. and Mrs. Jim DeStephano taking the award for the second largest family.

A 15-pound ham was awarded to Elizabeth Wells and a basket of groceries to Mrs. Mike Cicero.

It was announced that the K. of C. third degree will be exemplified in Sharon next Sunday. It was also stated that the time is at hand for boys between 14 and 18 years of age who wish to be initiated in the charter class of the Columbian Squires to contact either pastor or any K. of C. officer.

The third leading man to jump from Columbus to the films was Melvyn Douglas, and finally Lyle himself.

Although there are only a dozen plays on Broadway, Lyle's is one of these. It is a comedy called "Separate Rooms," and that it has gradually won its way into box office favor has been something of a personal triumph for Talbot, and for Glenda Farrell and Alan Dinehart, who are the three principal players in the cast. The show opened to melancholy notices and this is nearly always fatal. But since then at least 25 plays, many of them bearing the best names of the Broadway theater, have come and gone.

"It looks like it will run through the summer and into the winter," Lyle said. "Every week it gets stronger and stronger."

ONE of the girls in the Columbus company, when Lyle was its leading man, was a tall, serious girl with long gangling legs who used to like to walk in the rain and, so many believed, be like Garbo. Her name then was Jean Fullerton and she was altogether sincere in her devotion to the theater. Later she too turned up in pictures and made quite a success for herself under the name of Jean Muir. Jean was a Scot, and as I remember her telling it, she came over to this country when she was only a lassie of seven. Her mother still lives in New York and, for fun, runs a tiny but very attractive bookshop not far from Sheridan Sq.

Lyle's dressingroom looks out on a fireescape that leads down into 45th street. As he talked he said, "Don't let me forget to close that window when we go out. I've been leaving it open lately, and the other night while I was on stage someone climbed up the fireescape and rolled me for $125."

NEW YORK isn't always kind to its visitors from Hollywood, and I asked Lyle if he had noticed—as a general thing—the attitude of the critics toward newcomers from pictures.

"It's like this," he said, "I'm no more a Hollywood actor than you are. I'm a stage actor. They asked me to go out to Hollywood and make a few pictures, which I did. But I was on the stage before I ever heard of Hollywood, and I've never considered myself as anything other than a stage actor. I have noticed that attitude. That is why I am so gratified with the way "Separate Rooms" has turned out. It is a sort of personal little victory for Glenda and Alan and myself. All of us have new offers to go back to Hollywood since this play has caught on, but we refused. We are going to stay right here and have some fun. We may even go on the road with it after the New York run, but that is looking ahead."

HOAGVALL HAS PLUMBING LINE FOR ALL HOMES

Presenting the New CAMEL WATER SAVER

Today the modern home owner is very conscious of the fact that it pays to have the finest and latest in plumbing fixtures, particularly in the bathroom and the kitchen. Hoagvall Hardware, 213 Penna. Ave., E., declares in calling attention to their fixture line and plumbing service.

Yet plumbing fixtures need not necessarily cost a fortune. And regardless of cost, they serve for so many years that this feature should not even be considered.

But take the new Camel water saver pictured above. You'd guess it costs twice as much. Today's biggest advance in plumbing fixtures is represented in this new water saver. For here is a fixture of exceptional mechanical quality and smart design which includes many desirable features you would ordinarily get only in far more costly fixtures. Your money cannot buy more value, Mr. Hoagvall says.

Modernizing a bath room today is inexpensive yet here is a much used room which should be modern in every sense of the word, both for the benefit of the family and for visiting friends and relatives. For many people are judged by the way they keep their bathrooms when there are strangers in the house.

The kitchen, too, should have modern equipment and Mr. Hoagvall will be glad to help you lay out and design the entire kitchen if you Phone 24 or call at the Hoagvall Hardware, 213 Penna. Ave., E.

Fix up that bathroom and kitchen right now—you'll have years of pleasure and service from them!

Alexandria Walker And Joseph Dorotics United in Marriage

Miss Alexandria Walker, daughter of Frank Walker, of Clarendon, and Joseph Dorotics, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dorotics, of Sheffield, were united in marriage Saturday morning at ten o'clock in the St. Clara's church at Clarendon.

The Rev. Father M. J. Macken performed the ceremony and Mrs. Jane Kingsley, church organist, played the traditional wedding march, the Bridal Chorus from Wagner's Lohengrin.

The bride was attired in pale blue crepe, with lace jacket and white accessories, and her shoulder corsage was of pink roses and baby's breath.

Miss Frances Falber, her only attendant, wore pink crepe and white accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of yellow roses.

John O'Donish, of Sheffield, was Mr. Dorotics' best man.

After a wedding dinner served at the home of the bridegroom in Sheffield, the couple left for a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Canada. They will make their home in Sheffield, where the bridegroom is employed.

Pre-nuptial parties honoring the bride were given by Miss Frances Falber, Mrs. Clayton Larsen and Mrs. Jane Kingsley.

Ruth E. Anderson and Frank J. Herron are Wed in Lovely Evening Church Ceremony

A lovely ceremony was solemnized at seven o'clock Saturday evening in the Epworth Methodist church, when Miss Ruth E. Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Anderson, 10 N. Marion St., and Frank J. Herron, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Herron, of Pleasant township, were united in marriage by Rev. K. T. Romig, of Ionia, Mich., brother-in-law of the bride.

The church decorations were carried out with ferns, blue delphinium, regal lilies and white and pink roses. Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Harry J. Granquist, pianist, played "Avalon" by Kronke and "Avalon Cantabile" by Beethoven. Miss Evelyn Fredrickson, accompanied by Mrs. Granquist, sang "I Love You Truly" by Bond, "O Promise Me" by DeKoven and "O Perfect Love" by Barbery. For the ceremony, Mrs. Granquist played the traditional processional and recessional, the Bridal Chorus from Wagner's Lohengrin and Wedding March from Mendelssohn's Midsummer Night's Dream.

The bride wore a princess gown of velveteen, with sweetheart neckline, buttons to below the waist in the back and a long train. Her finger-tip veil was caught with seed pearls and white roses and her only jewelry was the bridegroom's gift, a strand of pearls. Her shower bouquet was of white lilies. She was given in marriage by her father.

Her sister, Miss Evelyn Anderson, was her bridesmaid and her cousin, Miss Mary Lou Hiberner, was the flower girl. Miss Anderson wore a long frock of blue tulle, with tight bodice, puffed sleeves and full skirt, and carried pink lilies. Her shoulder length veil was caught with roses and baby's breath. With a long pink net frock, the flower girl wore blue accessories and carried a white basket of pastel colored sweet peas.

Both Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Herron wore navy blue lace and white accessories, with pink rose corsages.

Highlights in the Musical and Dramatic Offerings at Chautauqua For This Week

Chief events of Chautauqua's fourth week include two performances of Smetana's opera, The Bartered Bride; the opening of Wolf-Ferrari's comic opera, The Inquisitive Women; professional days for medical men and nurses; and a performance of Alec Coppell's play, I Killed the Count.

The opera presentation is scheduled to begin at 8:15 o'clock this evening in Norton Memorial Hall, with a repetition at the same hour Wednesday night.

At 8:15 on Tuesday evening in the amphitheatre, Albert Stoessel will conduct the symphony in a program of 19th century music, with Joseph Knitzer, violinist, as the soloist.

Members of High School Class of 1925 Have Pleasant Reunion; Dinner and Business Meet

A very pleasant, informal gathering was held at the Y. W. C. A. activities building Saturday evening, occasion of the reunion of members of Warren High School Class of 1925.

There were 48 in attendance for the seven o'clock dinner, served at tables attractively centered with bouquets of summer flowers and with harmonizing favors.

After the "Alma Mater," Rev. Adolph Weaver was presented by the toastmaster, C. Henry Nicholson, for the invocation.

Throughout the evening, group singing was led by S. M. McClure, with Milton Munn at the piano. Mr. Munn also pleased with a variety of selections during dinner.

Mr. Nicholson read a number of class superlatives from the 1925 "Dragon" and later called the roll from the same publication.

Charles Eaton, chairman of the reunion committee, brought several important items to the group's attention and it was decided to hold another reunion in five years. Mr. Eaton was unanimously re-elected chairman and Mrs. T. H. Conway was re-elected secretary-historian.

Communications were read by Mr. Eaton and Mrs. Conway from several members unable to be present for the occasion: Irma Anderson, J. T. Brown, George Hartweg, Sheridan Brown then took charge of awarding a special prize, a feature which resulted in a contest between Mrs. Harold Stohl, Mrs. Don Finley, William E. Rice, and Mr. McClure, with Mr. Rice and Mrs. Finley adjudged the winners.

To conclude the program, Mr. and Mrs. Rice were presented as the 1940 bride and bridegroom of the class.

Among out of town members were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dalrymple, Washington, Pa.; Mrs. Charles Eberhardt, Tampa, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Orris Hall Brown, Sheffield; Mrs. N. Schugar, Pittsburgh; Rev. and Mrs. Adolph Weaver, North East; Miss Vera Lyon, Breckville, O.

You said it!... Harry Shawkey, who has caught more fish and killed less than any other county fisherman, we bet, hooked a musky in the river the other night on a trout rod and had a lot of fun before he let it go. Jimmy Hitchcock, so they tell us, will shortly give up baseball for good and devote all of his time to his grid coaching duties at Auburn. He was recently sold by Rochester to Columbus of the American Association. Jimmy and his missus, the former Dorothy Shawkey, will be Warren visitors before the former All-American back has had south to coach Auburn's ball-toters. Jerry Giegrich still remains on the bench for Reading although his substitute is hitting only .247, which the local youth could top, slump or no slump. Ray Caldwell, Corydon's gift to the big leagues, where he starred on the hill for the Yankees and the Indians, has lost out at the Ohio State League. Players asked the directors of the club to retire Ray as pitcher, but the moguls said "Nope!" Joe Pascarella, stellar Bradford High halfback, has chosen the University of Alabama and will report for freshman football there the latter part of next month. Six weeks from today Coach Leidig will send his edition against Lowell Drake's Erie Academy Lions at Russell Field.

FORGE BOWS TO Public Links Golfers NATRONA 9 TO 5 Open Tourney With AT VANDERGRIFT Five Champs in Field

Although out only 13 to 11, the National Forge suffered its first defeat of the state semi-pro baseball tournament on Saturday, bowing to the unbeaten Natrona outfit, 9 to 5.

Caffery started on the hill for the Forge and went to the sixth inning before he was shelved out of there and replaced by Hank Wise who allowed three more runs. It was 6 to 5 when Caffery walked to the showers, the Forgers having staged a 4-run uprising in the second frame to take the lead. Natrona came back with three in the third and tied it up in the fifth, but the Wolfemen annexed another to regain their advantage. Elmo Wolfe was the big gun for the losers with a pair of doubles while Joe Nagle had a single and a double.

Three errors didn't do the Irvine crowd any good. Natrona played flawless ball all day.

Other week-end competition saw New Kensington's Corbins eliminate East Butler, 5-4 and Punxsutawney beat Pittsburgh's Monarchs 14 to 9.

The Forge's next opponent will be announced late today by Commissioner Frank Swast.

SIROCCO RUNS IN AHEAD OF BIMELECH

Chicago, July 22.—(AP)—The $50,000 Arlington Classic, graveyard of champions, produced another stunning upset Saturday when the bay gelding, Sirocco, captured the event at odds of 13 to 1.

Bimelech, potential 1940 three-year-old champion, went to the post at odds of 3 to 5 and could do no better than third, three lengths behind Gallahadion, winner of the Kentucky Derby which finished second, seven lengths back of the flying Sirocco, owned by Charles T. Fisher, Detroit automobile body manufacturer.

Sirocco, which never won a stake previously as a three-year-old, won so easily that the crowd of 35,000, was stunned.

RAY SCHALK NAMED PILOT OF BREWERS

Milwaukee, July 20.—(AP)—The Milwaukee Brewer Association baseball club announced today acceptance of the resignation of Minor League (Mickey) Heath as manager and appointment of Ray Schalk, former Chicago White Sox star, to succeed him.

Schalk will take over his new duties tomorrow.

Heath was appointed manager of the Brewers after the 1935 season to succeed the late Alar Sothoron.

STATE HOSPITAL IN THREE-HIT SHUTOUT

The Swanson-Gardner State Hospital combine took another shutout victory on Saturday at North Warren, thumping the Jamestown Macabees, 7 to 0.

The National Forge is scheduled to play at the hospital next Saturday unless their schedule at Vandergrift conflicts or vacations cause postponement.

Hollywood Sights & Sounds

HOLLYWOOD—"Maryland." Screenplay by Ethel Hill and Jack Andrews. Directed by Henry King. Principals: Walter Brennan, Fay Bainter, Brenda Joyce, John Payne, Charles Ruggles, Hatlie McDaniel, Marjorie Weaver, Sidney Blackmer, Ben Carter.

Two years ago 20th Century-Fox took a technical spotlight on horse-racing in "Kentucky," giving Walter Brennan a role with which he topped an academy award. The present essay does the same for "Maryland," but throws the plum to one Ben Carter—or lets him take it.

Aside from the technical beauties of wood, field and stream, the excitement and color of fox hunts and the climatic race, "Maryland" travels well-worn paths, innocuously and pleasantly leading up to the Big Race. What lifts it above routine are the sequences assigned to Carter and his Negro fellow actors, who play a generous part in the plot and give it a needed shot in the arm.

Carter (previously effective in "Little Old New York") plays Shadrach, the unregenerate, dice-wreck spouse of Hatlie (McDaniel), cook in the Maryland manor of Charlotte Danfield (Bainter). Charlotte is a born horse-lover, turned against horses by the riding accident which killed her husband, and dismissed as a trainer (Brennan) who sets up his own farm conveniently nearby for Charlotte's son (Payne) and the trainer's daughter (Joyce) to provide the romantic interest.

Mamma's horse-fear and son's horse-love precipitate conflict on the big question of son's riding Uncle Bill's prize entry in the Maryland Hunt Cup race.

This is all well enough but "Maryland" really comes to life when Shadrach is seduced by Dogface's rattling dice, losing Hatlie's burial society premium, and in desperation turns to shout-

THIS isn't exactly hockey weather, but those with a financial and rooting interest in puck pursuing are thinking of it just the same. They are wondering if the National League and the various minors will operate come winter. The reason for doubt, of course, is that 90 per cent of the players hail from Canada.

Although the dominion government stands pledged not to invoke conscription for overseas service, 100,000 Canadians are in active service in England, on route or in training. Legislation is pending to invoke compulsory military training for 800,000 more.

Canada supplied more than 50 per cent of the Royal Air Force in World War I. Canadian youngsters had better eyesight... superior aptitude.

A big force of pilots is being trained across the border, where gasoline is plentiful, and no enemy interferes with practice flying. More than a few of the brightest stars of hockey are bound to hear the call.

CONNIE SMYTHE, a veteran of World War I and now managing director of the Toronto Maple Leafs, gives a clue to the situation in advising his players to enroll immediately for military training. He wants his athletes to do their stunts early, so as to be free for hockey, if any.

The Canadian government may not tolerate citizens of military age coming to the United States for a professional sport while the nation is embattled.

The precedent of World War I indicates hockey may be shelved for the duration of World War II. The professional game was confined to Canada and the Pacific northwest 25 years ago.

Stars were encouraged to join as good propaganda for recruits. The fate of arenas in New York, Chicago, Boston, Detroit, Montreal, Toronto, and Cleveland and numerous minor league clubs are at the mercy of the whims of Adolf Hitler and the decision of Premier Mackenzie King. Hockey has kept all of them open. Winter without it would be well nigh ruinous.

Many hockey luminaries distinguished themselves in World War I. Bill Cook, Ching Johnson, Red Dutton, and Rabbit McVeigh among them.

If I were a German soldier, I wouldn't want to face a battalion of hockey players, because hockey, like war, is a game in which only thoroughly game guys break through.

STORIE

SPORT SCATTERINGS

Bill Rice

If we'd remember "Silence is Golden" and maxims like that we wouldn't get into these things. First, we held forth on our golfing ability and the first thing we knew we had talked ourself into a match with Ray Peebles and Joe Martin, which comes off on Thursday and in which we shall without doubt get our ears pinned back. Then, Saturday night we dropped some offhand, unguarded remark about tennis and in a trice we were paired with Larry Amy against Doc Yerg and Monty McClure. A fine thing! With our arteries rapidly hardening, we guarantee to put in an appearance at the hospital court at an early date! McClure wanted to stage it for the benefit of the Red Cross, of course, and it was with difficulty that we made a secret date one of the stipulations. Just introduce this scribe to Johnny Weismuller and before we're through we'll be engineered into a 220 free-style dash—and we've never graduated from the water wing stage.

When Jack Dempsey tagged the rumors that he would try a serious comeback "a lot of hokey," he sat a lot of minds at rest. A great many of us who prefer to recall him as the Manassa Mauler who built up the fight game to its peak have been a little uneasy over his reported threat to go after the crown once more. His running around belting wrestlers all over the lot is bad enough, but at least he can lick those guys; if he climbed into the ring against a third-rate heavy and so much as lost a decision, it would rub off all the glamour he acquired during his very fine career. "I feel wonderful, but I'm 45 and I certainly haven't any idea of going back into the business," Dempsey said Saturday. "I wish everybody in the United States were as happy financially as I am." If that's the case, most of us would prefer to see him refereeing instead of stooping to the wrestling level.

It seems that the reason the New York State Athletic Commission held up the purses of Henry Armstrong and Lew Jenkins was not because there was any suspicion of skulduggery, but because they wanted both champions to post forfeits to make the next defenses of their titles in that state. The commissioners finally decided that Hammerin' Hank must defend his welter belt on or before October 26 and Lew must risk his diadem before Armistice Day. Both agreed to a return match within the near future, non-title, 12 rounds at 140 pounds. After getting those matters all ironed out and not wanting to adjourn without showing their authority, the commissioners slapped a 60-day suspension on Eddie Mead, Armstrong's manager, for an unimportant argument about hand bandages before the Wednesday fight.

You said it! . . . Harry Shawkey, who has caught more fish and killed less than any other county fisherman, we bet, hooked a nuskys in the river the other night on a trout run and had a lot of fun before he let it go. . . . ## TWO TITLES ARE TAKEN BY ALICE MARBLE SUNDAY

Baltimore, July 22.—(P)—Fresh from a pair of triumphs in the Mid-Atlantic section and Maryland tennis championships, Blonde Alice Marble, headed for Seabright, N. J., today in search of more laurels on a tour that's been "more fun than you can imagine."

This year, with the blitzkrieging big tournaments in Europe, including that at Wimbledon and the Wightman Cup matches, the 26-year-old Miss Marble took up her rackets and began to learn about America first-hand.

She's traveled from coast-to-coast giving the folks a look at what it takes to rule the tennis world.

The trip has put her in topflight condition and even Miss Marble thinks she is playing "pretty well."

Miss Marble said she intended to keep up her "at home" contacts this fall on a tour of high schools and colleges for talks on "The Will to Win" something like that."

Miss Marble defeated Pauline Betz, 20-year-old Californian, to win yesterday's title. Miss Betz took the first set of their women's singles title match, 6-4, and led at 4-3 in the second on her own service. Alice simply tightened her belt and took that one, 6-4.

In the ten-minute intermission, to show that champions sometimes have to be told too, Miss Eleanor Tennant, Alice's coach, went to the dressing room.

"If you're tired and can't get going," Miss Tennant told her, "You're certainly doing this the hard way. Get out there and beat her 6-love and get it over with, but anyway, get out there and stir your stumps."

Alice did just that. It took her just eight minutes to plaster a 6-love defeat on Miss Betz in that deciding set.

Miss Marble had teamed with Mary Arnold, another Californian, to win the women's doubles title, defeating the English stars, Mary Hardwick and Valerie Scott, 12-6.

Young Donald McNeill of Oklahoma City won the men's singles title over unseeded Jack Kramer of Belvedere Gardens, Calif., and Bobby Riggs, world's men's singles champ, coupled with Welby Van Horn of Los Angeles to take the men's doubles crown from Kramer and Ted Schroeder of Glendale, Calif.

FORGE BOWS TO NATRONA 9 TO 5 AT VANDERGRIFT

Although outthit only 13 to 11, the National Forge suffered its first defeat of the state semi-pro baseball tournament on Saturday, bowing to the unbeaten Natrona outfit, 9 to 5.

Caffery started on the hill for the Forge and went to the sixth inning before he was shelved out of there and relieved by Hank Wise who allowed three more runs. It was 6 to 5 when Caffery walked to the showers, the Forgers having staged a 4-run uprising in the second frame to take the lead. Natrona came back with three in the third and tied it up in the fifth, but the Wolfemen annexed another to regain their advantage.

Elmo Wolfe was the big gun for the losers with a pair of doubles while Joe Nagle had a single and a double.

Three errors didn't do the Irvine crowd any good. Natrona played flawless ball afield.

Other week-end competition saw New Kensington's Corbins eliminate East Butler, 5-4 and Punks-tawney beat Pittsburgh's Monarchs 14 to 9.

The Forge's next opponent will be announced later today by Commissioner Frank Swast.

Public Links Golfers Open Tourney With Five Champs in Field

Detroit, July 22.—(P)—The headlines of America's pay-as-you-play golfers, conceding nothing to anyone in scoring ability, open the 19th annual National Public Links championship here today with five former winners in the field.

A total of 192 linksmen, survivors of a record entry of 2,601 that played in 40 sectional tests, tees off today on the first half of the 36-hole qualifying round. The low 64 scorers in the two-day test will earn places in the match play which starts Wednesday.

Defending champion is husky Andrew Szwedko, Pittsburgh steel worker, who already has added to his laurels by finishing twenty-ninth in this year's United States Open championship.

Other former winners in the field are Carl F. Kauffman, also of Pittsburgh, only three-time winner with victories in 1927, 1928 and 1929; Charles Ferrera, of San Francisco, 1931 and 1933 champion; David A. Mitchell, of Atlanta, the 1934 titlist and Al Leach of Cleveland, 1938 champion.

Today's round also marks the start of team competition for the Warren G. Harding trophy now held by the Los Angeles team of Quicke, Neil Whitney and William C. Train. Thirty-three teams, a record number, are seeking the Harding award, the championship being determined on medal scores made by the three-man teams in the qualifying round.

Sports Round-up

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, July 22.—(P)—Diamond dust: We're not sure whether Ump Joe Rue was a hero for bravely standing there and letting those cowards heave pop bottles at him yesterday—or whether he's a dunce for not ducking. . . . Thank the Lord the throwers' arms were as feeble as their brains. . . . If you think the Yankees are not serious about winning this year's pennant, why do you think they cancelled those exhibition games in Toledo, Baltimore and Buffalo?

Harry Craft, the Reds outfielder, has yet to make his first error of the year while Joe Moore of the Jints, tops among the 1939 outfielders, already has more bobbles than he had all last year. . . . Vito Tamulis is our choice to lead the National League in allowing the fewest earned runs. . . . The Jersey City Giants'll quit skidding just as soon as Roy Joiner, now with the Terrymen, rejoins 'em. . . .

Today's Guest Star

John Kieran, New York "Times": "To hear Manager Ossie Vitt of the Cleveland club tell it in cheerful accents, if there's anything smouldering in the Indians' dugout, it must be smoke from the pipe of peace."

Twenty-eight years ago Charley Howard, the auto man, said, "The horse is gone forever." He's the same guy who paid $15,000 last winter for Miodland. When Tommy Riggs puts on an Illinois helmet this fall it'll be the third time he's captained a college outfit. He led the Navy plebes and the Duke freshmen before reporting to Bob Zupke. . . . The Brooklyn grid Dodgers are cheering this news: Ace Parker, who broke his leg in a baseball game, has tossed away his crutches and is ready to go again. . . . Artie McGovern, we hear, is laying 'em in the aisles in Detroit on his current lecture tour.

Two And A Half Minute Interview

Doc Painter, Yankee trainer: "Know what's the matter with the Yankees? Well, no team ever was under a nervous strain for as long as the Yankees were. For four years, they couldn't let down even in exhibition games because they had to keep in mind the fact they were the Yankees and people expected great things of them. This spring they just had a reaction."

Feetball Dept.: Bob Peoples, the U. S. C. ace is keeping in shape by playing softball in Oklahoma.

Hollywood Sights & Sounds

HOLLYWOOD—"Maryland." Screenplay by Ethel Hill and Jack Andrews. Directed by Henry King. Principals: Walter Brennan, Fay Bainter, Brenda Joyce, John Payne, Charles Ruggles, Hattie McDaniel, Marjorie Weaver, Sidney Blackmer, Ben Carter.

Two years ago 20th Century-Fox threw a technicolor spotlight on horse-racing in "Kentucky," giving Walter Brennan a role with which he copied an academy award. The present essay does the same for "Maryland," but throws the plum to one Ben Carter—or lets him take it.

Aside from the technicolor beauties of wood, field and stream, the excitement and color of fox hunts and the climatic race, "Maryland" travels well worn paths, innocuously and pleasantly leading up to the Big Race. What lifts it above routine are the sequences assigned to Carter and his Negro fellow actors, who play a generous part in the plot and give it a needed shot in the arm.

Carter (previously effective in "Little Old New York") plays Shadrach, the unregenerate, dice-weak spouse of Hattie (McDaniel), cook in the Maryland manor of Charlotte Danfield (Bainter). Charlotte is a born horse-lover, turned against horses by the riding accident which killed her husband. She clears out her stables and dismisses her trainer (Brennan) who sets up his own farm conveniently nearby for Charlotte's son (Payne) and the trainer's daughter (Joyce) to provide the romantic interest.

Mamma's horse-fear and son's horse-love precipitate conflict, on the big question of son's riding Uncle Bill's prize entry in the Maryland Hunt Cup race.

This is all well enough but "Maryland" really comes to life when Shadrach is seduced by Dogface's rattling dice, losing Hattie's burial society premium, and in desperation turns to shouting religion. The picture runs the risk of offending here, but the sequences of Shadrach's salvation are nevertheless a riot of comedy—and the "salvation" provides a good plot twist.

The cup race, filmed at its last running, is exciting and beautiful, but Carter and company are still the hits of the show. Carter, by the way, is an actor only by avocation. His real business is agency, and he collected fees from most of the Negro players in the film.

"ANDY HARDY MEETS DEBUTANTE." Mickey Rooney, Lewis Stone, Fay Holden, Cecilia Parker, Judy Garland, Ann Rutherford, Diana Lewis.

Best of the recent Family films, this one has Andy in straits arising from his claim that he knows a city glamour girl (Lewis). Script and treatment emphasize comedy and slight the more serious elements of recent Hardy's, which is to the good. Garland, with a couple of songs and a good role, adds considerably to the entertainment quota of a sprightly drop-your-worries movie.

"MY LOVE CAME BACK." Olivia de Havilland, Jeffrey Lynn, Eddie Albert, Jane Bryan, Charles Winninger.

Good, humor, if strained, comedy of errors about a music student, her boy friend, and the rich old geezer with not entirely philanthropic ideas in her direction. Full of good music, played straight and also in ingratiating swindle. Enjoyable, even though you don't believe a frame of it.

Youngsville, both stated that the tractor was being driven slowly off the berm and that the boy jumped directly in front of the tractor just as it was about to pass. They estimated the speed of the car at between 40 and 50 miles an hour. The right fender and headlight of the automobile were damaged by the impact.

The accident victim was born in Pittsfield township, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stook, both of whom survive with the following brothers and sisters: Mike and Julius, at home; Helen, of North Warren, and Thomas, with the U. S. Army at Hawaii. Four half-brothers, Stephen and Al Duda, of Cleveland; Joe Wayda, of Chicago, and Jake Wayda, of Uniontown, also survive.

The body was taken to the Hull Funeral Parlor in Youngsville. Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed.

MORE AID OFFERS EXTENDED WILLKIE

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 22.—(P)—An offer of support by two former New Deal office holders prompted Wendell L. Willkie, Republican presidential nominee, to suggest today a movement to organize "Democrats and Independents of like belief."

Lewis Douglas, budget director in the early days of the Roosevelt administration, and John W. Hanes, former assistant to the secretary of the treasury, offered to work for Willkie's election.

Democrats who recently have pledged their support to Willkie include Irvin S. Cobb, the author, Vance McCormick, former Democratic national chairman, and publisher of the Harrisburg, Pa., Patriot, Stephen Chadwick, former national commander of the American Legion, and William H. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray, former governor of Oklahoma.

Scores are Drowned In Effort to Escape Record Torrid Wave

some rain fell in Philadelphia, but the downfalls did little to cool the air. It was 82 degrees at Reading at 10 a. m. and 87 at Pittsburgh. The mercury rose in Philadelphia from 79 at 7:30 a. m. to 90 by noon.

The weather forecast for eastern Pennsylvania and western Pennsylvania was "generally fair and continued warm tonight and Tuesday, except widely scattered thunder showers Tuesday afternoon."

Deaths due to drowning or attributed to the extreme heat rose meanwhile. At least 21 accidental deaths were recorded in the state for the four-day period beginning Friday, including ten drownings and at least three from the heat.

The temperature rose 12 degrees from 6 a. m. to 88 at 10 a. m. At Easton and the Harrisburg Airport thermometers stood at the same figure a 9:30 a. m. with a top for the day of 96 degrees predicted. Hazleton reported 80 degrees with a light breeze and York 85.

Philadelphia, for the third consecutive day, saw the mercury climb up past the 90 mark and Sunday an official 95.6 degrees, a new high for the year, was recorded. Public parks and pools were jammed with persons unable to go to resort spots to seek relief.

The same conditions prevailed in other cities as the thermometer touched 97 at Lancaster, 96 at York, 91 at Allentown, 87 at Harrisburg, 92 at Bloomsburg, Wilkes-Barre, 90 to 95 throughout western Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia physicians blamed the intense heat for the fatal heat ailments suffered by John J. Daley, Herbert Griffith, 62, and Peter Madge, 59. Coroner L. S. Reese, Wilkes-Barre, said Lawrence D. Brophy, 54 died of heat prostration. The death of Mrs. Gertrude Hobbs, 67, Pittsburgh, was attributed to the same cause.

Drownings included Henry Paulson, 58, Norristown, N. J., in Muncy creek, near Hughesville, Lycoming county; Donald H. Baker, 7, Glenolden, Glenolden Park lake; William Duncan, 55, Delaware river, Philadelphia; Ralph Hanley, 52, Pittsburgh, Lake Erie near North East, Pa.; Joseph Sudia, 22, Philadelphia, Delaware river; Lippert, 8, Schaeffer's dam, in Stoevers' dam, north of Lebanon; Jean Warford, 12, North Apollo, in Kiski river at Apollo, Armstrong county.

Automobile accidents took their heaviest toll in the western part of the state. The fatalities included:

Gloria Donatelli, 10, Pittsburgh; James Serian, 68, Brodheadsville; Martin Healey, Pittsburgh, 40; Virginia Jackson, 12, Gibsonia; Ann Fawcett, 27, Sharon; Robert Myers, 23, Greenville; John Staskis, 53, Burnstown.

The body of Michael McNulty, 45, of Duryea, was found yesterday along the Lehigh Valley railroad tracks near his home. It was believed he had been struck by a train.

gians francs were made equal to 722 French francs.

(The Belgian franc, like the French franc, is no longer quoted but it ranged in value from 17.10 to 16.52 cents during 1940.)

Finance Minister Yves Bouthlier announced he would leave for Paris today to reestablish his department there.

(A dispatch from Paris reported that German dissatisfaction with the makeup of the Petain government was apparently one of the obstacles delaying return of the French government to the city.)

The Paris Press published reports from Berlin that Germany, "astonished to find in the new government the influence of men responsible for the war," is maintaining "extreme reserve toward French policy."

General Breard, former military commentator of Le Jour-Echo de Paris, was named Secretary General of the Petain cabinet.

Britain's Reply To Hitler Expected In Address By Halifax

ers Blucher and Leipzig and letting the German liner Bremen pass because she was too distant for adequate warning.

This morning the Admiralty reported the sinking, without loss of life, of the 1,360-ton destroyer Brazen, which was damaged in an air attack and sank while being towed to port.

The expansion of Soviet Russia's strategic position in the Baltic, continued as Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia, independent republics since 1918, petitioned for union with Russia.

Rumania also was reported to have received a Russian "suggestion" that she form a "popular front" government—such as those established in the Baltic countries after the Red Army moved in.

Rumania's King Carol, who already has yielded to Russia the great area of Bessarabia and northern Bucovina to avoid a fight, was reported to have asked Germany and Italy desperately to advise him in this latest dilemma.

Italy reported week-end air raids on Malta, Kenya Colony, British Somaliland and the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

The Italian High Command, harking back once more to the Italian-British naval battles in the Mediterranean, July 8-13, insisted it now has "positive information" that three British warships—in addition to the 42,100-ton battle cruiser Hood and the aircraft carrier Ark Royal—were "damaged severely" and suffered "heavy crew losses."

The British Admiralty has officially denied any such casualties, either to ships or men.

As a token of "axis friendship," Hitler presented Premier Mussolini an armored train to protect him from air attacks in his travels.

President is Getting Report From Bullitt

then formed a dictatorial government.

The ambassador to France, just arrived from Europe, rode on the president's special train from Washington to Hyde Park to elaborate on his report begun in the capital last night and perhaps assist the chief executive in appraising future Franco-American relations.

The White House had nothing to say on their conference. There has been widespread speculation, however, whether the United States might withhold recognition from the new government established in France under Marshal Henri Petain and extend it instead to a committee of French refugees set up in England.

In diplomatic quarters it was suggested that the administration probably would proceed cautiously in its relations with France and perhaps await the results of the battle for Britain before taking any action.

Bullitt told reporters on his arrival in New York Saturday that he did not think that it was right to describe the Petain government as "Fascist" and asserted that the marshal enjoyed "the universal respect and confidence of the people."

The 49-year-old diplomat, who narrowly escaped death from a German bomb in Paris and remained in the city when Nazis took it, later went to Vichy and then left there before Petain became head of the new French government.

Before departing for Hyde Park last night, Mr. Roosevelt received word of the death of his 92-year-old aunt, Mrs. Dora Delano Forbes, who died yesterday. The president's wife and his mother, Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt, sister of Mrs. Forbes, will accompany him.

American Republics Look To United States To Point Way

He warned the delegates they must approach the "difficult" problems before them in the full knowledge that the western hemisphere has become "the trustee for the remainder of betrayed civilization—a civilization pushed to the edge of a precipice."

In dealing with events in Europe the president mentioned no nations by name but he delivered barbed thrusts against "conquests of force and violence."

Although boxes had been set aside for German, Italian, Japanese and Spanish diplomats at the inaugural session, they remained empty.

The agenda facing the delegates was described as one of the broadest ever tackled by a Pan American conference and many of those present considered that its very broadness made it susceptible to pitfalls.

The problems to be discussed ranged over this field:

1. Examination of western hemisphere neutrality in the light of such unpredicted recent developments as the capitulation of Holland, Belgium and France to German armed forces.

2. The attitude of the Americas toward western hemisphere possessions of conquered European nations.

3. "Fifth column" activities in the Americas—their extent and possible precautionary measures to be taken.

4. Re-settlement of refugees, prisoners and other victims of war.

5. Economic cooperation—or, where possibilities exist for employing United States capital to mutual advantage in helping Latin American states from being drawn into the barter system of totalitarian powers.

San Jose, Costa Rica, July 22.—(P)—Central American diplomats heard today that their chancelleries will lay before the Havana conference a memorandum from German Minister Otto Reinebeck.

(Presumably this is the German memorandum handed two weeks ago to Central American nations, expressing the hope that these nations do nothing "unneutral" at Havana.)

The British legation, meanwhile, has made representations to the Costa Rican foreign office against the distribution of Nazi pamphlets in this country.

ing their problems. I call the attention of congress to the fact that by helping our neighbors we will be helping ourselves."

The bank's present capital is $200,000,000 and the president asked congress not only to increase this to $700,000,000, but to remove certain restrictions on its operations. These restrictions were not described in detail.

Noting that the export-import bank is operated by directors representing the Departments of State, Treasury, Agriculture and Commerce, and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and that the bank was under the supervision of Loan Administrator Jesse Jones, Mr. Roosevelt said that the directors should have a free hand "as to the purposes for which loans are authorized and the terms and conditions upon which they are made."

GIBRALTAR FACES ITS STERNEST TEST

Rock Believed First Target of Combined Totalitarian Attack

German troops are reported filtering into Spain. Francisco Franco clamors for the return of the Rock of Gibraltar to Spanish rule.

British control of that forbidden western gateway to the Mediterranean is threatened as never before.

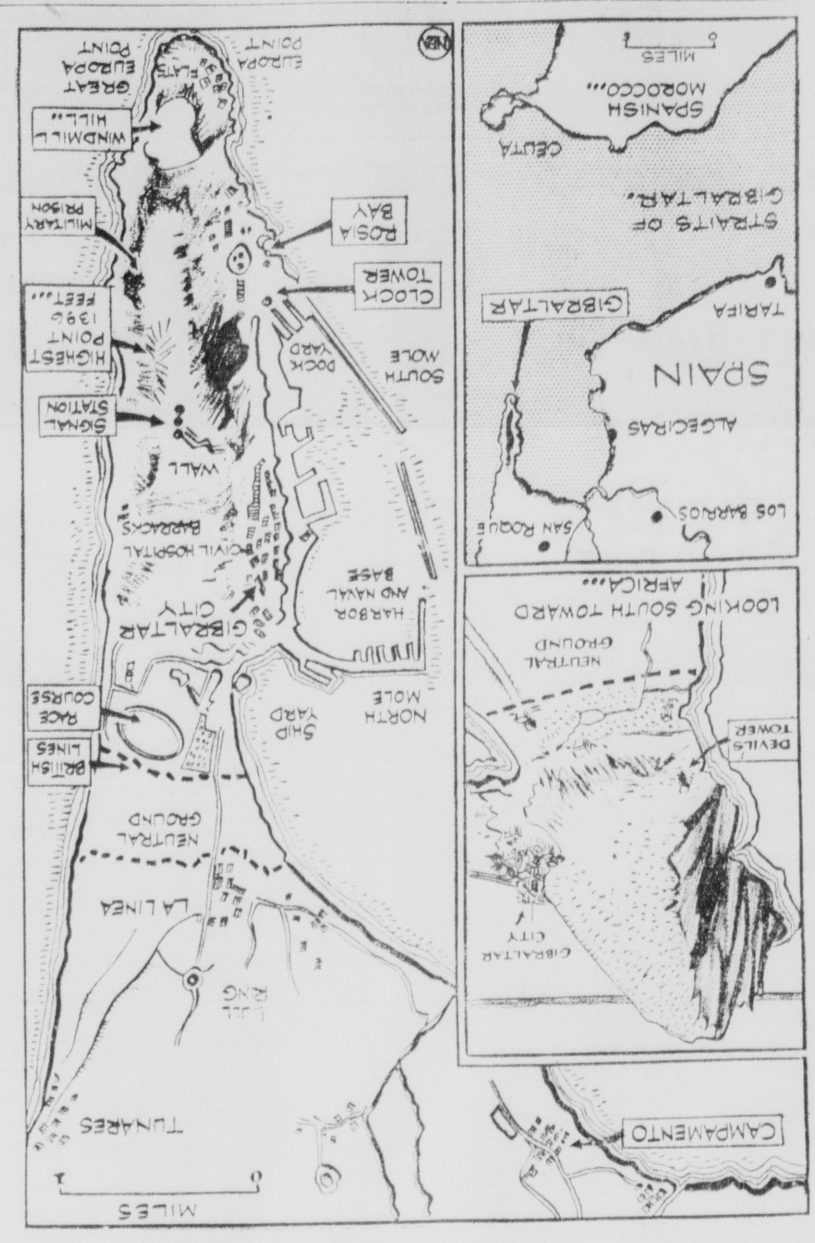

For more than two centuries the "Rock" has stood as a constant reminder to passing ships of the might of the British Empire. Now it is slowly strangling Italy's sea commerce.

Gibraltar's two square miles have been much fought over. The Moors and the Spaniards battled back and forth for centuries until the British seized the Rock in 1704, then withstood a severe Spanish and French siege in 1779-1783 to establish the control which has stood since then.

In that time the Rock has been impregnable. But now military experts wonder whether its brilliant guns could stand effective guard in the face of a prolonged attack by long-range guns and airplanes.

Batteries near Ceuta, across the straits in Spanish Morocco, are trained on the Rock, as are others on the Spanish mainland, near Algeciras.

Consensus of military men is that the guns of Gibraltar could still close the straits; whether they could keep them closed is more doubtful.

EARLIEST ELECTION DATE

The earliest elections held in America probably were those of the delegates to the Virginia assembly mentioned in records was that of the election of John Winthrop as governor of Massachusetts in 1631.

Large Number Receive Awards in Give-away Held Saturday Night; July 4th Deficit is Liquidated

Members of the Citizens' Fourth of July Celebration Committee, which was in charge of the huge Independence Day observance here, announced today that the deficit incurred at that time has been entirely liquidated as the result of the give-away held Saturday evening.

The give-away was conducted at the Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument, with members of the local American Legion post in charge.

While all of the recipients of prizes were not on hand, many were present and received certificates entitling them to merchandise from various stores.

Those who were not present may obtain their gift certificates by calling at the Times-Mirror office with their tickets. The list of prize winners appears below.

Altogether, there were 73 merchandise prizes presented. These awards were given by local merchants who participated in the Treasure Hunt on July 6th and who did not give away their prizes at that time.

The give-away followed a short concert by the Veterans of Foreign Wars band, which was very much enjoyed.

Following is the complete list of prize winners: Frank J. Sealise, T. C. McClune, Veterans Club, Jim Syberkrop, M. L. Dougherty, S. F. Bission, R. W. Flinn, C. W. Pettibone, Eva Brown, W. T. BY WM. E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

There are many little defensive tricks that are overlooked by the average player. Bear in mind that bridge is a partnership game and it is to your advantage to help your partner whenever possible. There is a little play in today's hand that I want to bring to your attention.

On the opening lead declarer played the four from dummy, East played the queen and South won with the ace. Then he led the king of clubs. West played the three-spot and North the four. What should East play?

With three small clubs his proper play is the deuce, not simply because it is the smallest card, but because it will tell his partner that he holds more than two or that the deuce is a singleton. Holding two, he should play the higher first, then the lower one.

When the king of clubs held the trick, South continued with the six-spot and now West did not have to guess whether South had another club to lead. He went right in with the ace, cashed the king of spades and led the six of hearts. East won with the ace and returned a heart, establishing the queen for West. There was no way for declarer to avoid losing a diamond trick.

Had West led the second club trick, declarer could have made game by switching at once to diamonds.

NEWTON

Newton, July 20.—Mrs. Martha Donaldson and daughter, Ruth, and Mrs. Nelson and daughter, of Cleveland, spent Sunday at the Emel Radtke home.

Maxine and Janice Holcomb have returned home after spending two weeks in Dunkirk with relatives.

Frederick D. Smith, Miss Evelina Miller and Mrs. Melvin M. Y. spent Sunday with Mr. Smith's sister, Mrs. Clayton Holcomb, and family.

Mrs. J. H. Tousey and son, John, and wife, Mrs. Frank Stocker, of Jamestown, and Mrs. Catherine Laughlin, Randolph, N. Y., visited at the Fred Leet home Saturday.

Sunday visitors at the George Holcomb home were Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Welms, Oil City; Miss Louise Holcomb, R. N. Jackson, Michigan; Mrs. E. R. Johnson and son, Tidoute, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Suggett and son, Fredonia, N. Y.

The Roundabout Club met on Wednesday, July 17, with Mrs. John Buckley. Dinner was served in the pine grove. The next meeting is to meet with Miss May Snyder on August.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rhinehart entertained their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Fallon, of Pittsburgh, recently.

The Gates family attended the funeral service of Mrs. Gates' uncle at Warren Thursday.

George Holcomb, who has been employed at the state hospital, was compelled to come home for a vacation because of illness.

Many attended the home coming picnic at Torpedo.

CITY BUILDING SCENE OF NEXT BAND PROGRAM

Warren's new municipal building, Third and Hickory streets, has been selected as the site for the third of the "neighborhood" concerts by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Band, to be given at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening.

An innovation in this concert will be the inclusion of a vocal soloist in the program. Edmund C. Snyder, well-known Warren tenor and a member of the choir of the First Presbyterian church, will be the soloist. His numbers will be accompanied by the band. As customary in the band's summer series, the program will last for slightly more than an hour, and the concert will be entirely free to the public. Seats will be provided for at least part of the audience.

While plans have been made for the inclusion of a number of other soloists in later programs, Wednesday's program will be the first this year in which a soloist has been presented.

A Department of Labor survey has proved it: women spend more for their clothes than men.

TOOTHLESS

There is not the slightest vestige of a tooth in the mouth of any bird now living. Prehistoric birds had teeth, but their added weight was a burden to the flying birds of later ages.

Casual Slaughters

By VIRGINIA HANSON

YESTERDAY, Sandra tells Kay she is afraid of Jeff. She stays in Kay's room while Kay goes to the Pennant's to help them plan parties for the bride and groom. When Kay returns Sandra finishes the typing of Kay's newest love story.

Spot Of Detecting

"YOU send these right to the magazine," she said curiously. "I thought writers had agents to handle things for them."

"Good agents don't care to be bothered with pulp stories—there isn't enough money in them."

"You've sent these people other things? They know who you are?"

"Oh yes. I sell them a story every month or so."

"What becomes of it if they don't take it?"

"I enclose return postage and they send it back. So then I try someone else."

"How long before they send it back—I mean, if they don't buy it?"

"Couple of weeks, more or less."

"Do they ever lose a manuscript?"

"Sometimes. I suppose. I've never had one lost. But I keep a copy, just in case."

People are always asking questions like that, but maybe I would have begun to wonder why she pursued the subject so relentlessly if we hadn't reached the post office just then. She stamped her two envelopes and stuck them in the chute without a second glance, but I was vaguely conscious that she kept her gaze riveted on the manila envelope while I inserted return postage, affixed the outer stamps and sealed the envelope.

It's easy to look back now and say that I was stupid, that I should have known something was up. But what? What possible connection with the mystery could I assign to Sandra's voluntary assistance? She was imposing on me to the extent of asking to share my room at night. This, I thought, was her gesture of repayment.

"That was a break for me," I said as I turned Adam's car once more toward home. "How much would you charge to take the job on permanently?"

"I'll be glad to help you while you're here," she said seriously. "But I couldn't take any pay."

"I was only joking. I can't afford a secretary—wouldn't know what to do with one. When I graduate to the sticks I'll send for you. You're good."

"I've had experience—I paid my way through dramatic school as secretary to the head."

"Oh, I thought you had an income."

"Not enough. I would have had to break into my capital, and I have better uses for that."

She was abruptly silent then, in a way that discouraged pursuit of the subject, so I changed it to a recital of the plans the Pennants were making. That seemed a matter of complete indifference to her, but she listened politely, said vaguely, "Whatever they want to do—"

She went off to her rooms to dress for dinner as soon as we reached the club.

Gerald Beckert was sprawled asleep on my studio couch. I stared down at him in exasperation. Was my room turning into a public lounge? I reached down and shook him. He sat up with a muffled snore.

'A' Commission

"I SAY, do you have to be so rough?"

"If the bed in your room isn't comfortable I can easily have this one moved there for you," I said politely.

He grinned. "Maiden lady in defense of her modest couch. Frightfully sorry and all that. I came here in great dignity to pay my respects—your own fault for being out. I say, don't tell me I was snoring!"

"Raucously. I heard you clear out in the street."

"It's the weather," he said solemnly. "The heat. Never happens in the winter."

"Why not?"

"Always wear a muffler."

I groaned. "I never thought I'd encounter a form of humor lower than my own! Now how would you like to run along and let me get ready for dinner?"

"I knew there was some reason for my being here! You're having dinner with me—you and Julia Pennant. Now don't say no—she said she would if you would. I quite realize I'm a dangerous sort of fellow for a maiden to be exposed to alone. I hardly know my own charm. But the point is, this is not a strictly social formation. I have a commission from the great Adam Drew himself."

"A commission?"

"No less. Now don't ask questions—you'll know as in good time. We three, you and Julia and I, are going to do a spot of detecting. And that is definitely my last

MORE STUDENTS EXAMINED FOR GROUND SCHOOL

Physical examinations for the civil pilot training class at the Warren Airport were completed yesterday when Dr. Dieffendorf, of Angola, N. Y., and Dr. Baker, of Tonawanda, N. Y., finished examining more than 60 students, including some who are flying outside of the government program.

There are now 53 fully qualified students for the CPT ground school, which brings the local airport up to its required enrollment and makes a complete enrollment of 53 students in ground school, according to V. S. King, airport manager. If there are any others who have missed the examinations and wish to receive the ground school free, with a chance to qualify for the flight training in October, they should contact the airport at once, it was stated.

NOTICE TO FLIGHT STUDENTS

Application blanks are now available at the Warren Chamber of Commerce, 2nd floor, Warren Bank and Trust Co., for the course of ground and flight instruction to be given by the Civil Aeronautics Authority under the sponsorship of the local chamber. Whether or not prospective students have passed a physical examination, these forms must be filled in immediately.

It will be necessary for any additional students to go to Angola, N. Y., to take their physical examinations, it was pointed out.

"Any young man or woman who has the desire to fly and is interested in the advancement of aviation in our country, and who is also interested in building up our national defense in the air—providing they are between the ages of 18 and 26 and in good physical condition—should jump at the chance to receive this training free that other men and women have had to pay for," said Mr. King today. This is now offered free for the asking by the U. S. government. Get under the wire for this class which will start within a few days.

The date for starting the ground school will be announced within a few days, it was stated.

"GRAPEVINE TELEGRAPH"

No one invented the "grapevine telegraph." It originated during the Civil War and was a term applied to the method of carrying news by word of mouth. In many communities, this still is an essential news channel.

War Brings "Ghost" Fleet to Life

For sixteen years, these ships, their anchors rusting, their bottoms covered with barnacles, have been tied up near New Orleans, a "ghost fleet" that no one thought would sail again. But the sinking of vessels by the belligerents in the European war has caused such a demand for freighters that the "ghost" fleet, totalling 43 vessels, has been reconditioned, and will soon again carry the cargoes of commerce.
